Three Nuclear Powers Sign Test Ban Treaty

Held Step Toward Full Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union today signed a partial nuclear test ban treaty they called "an important initial step toward the lessening of international tension and the strengthening of peace."

The three nuclear powers announced after the signing signing of the historic agreement that the treaty would be open for signatures by other powers in Washington, London and Moscow Aug. 8.

A three-power communique hailing the treaty as a first step toward peace said the three governments "have stressed their hope that future progress will be achieved toward that end."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko put their signatures on the historic document at 4:34 p.m. Moscow time.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev witnessed the signing.

FIRST STEP

"Our three governments," said Rusk, "have today taken what all mankind must hope will be a first step on the road to a secure and peaceful world.

"The treaty we have signed today is a good first step—a step for which the United States has long and devoutly hoped. But it is only a first step. It does not end the threat of nuclear war."

Khrushchev listened with rapt attention to the words of the foreign ministers immediately after the signing ceremony.

Lord Home called the reaty a "breakthrough in relations between our countries" which indicated that the great powers had come to the conclusion that nuclear war was impossible.

NO GUARANTEE

Rusk warned that it would be impossible "for us to guarantee now what the significance of this act will be."

"History will eventually record how we deal with the unfinished business of peace," he continued. "But each of our governments can and will play an important role in determining what future historians will report."

Rusk made his remarks after putting his signature to the treaty binding the three powers to end all nuclear weapons testings in the atmosphere, in space and under water. Underground testing is not affected.

"In a broader sense," Rusk concluded, "the signature of this treaty represents the readiness of the United States to join with the two other original signatories and with other nations in a determined and sustained effort to find practical means by which tensions can be reduced and the burdens of the arms race lifted from the shoulders of our people."

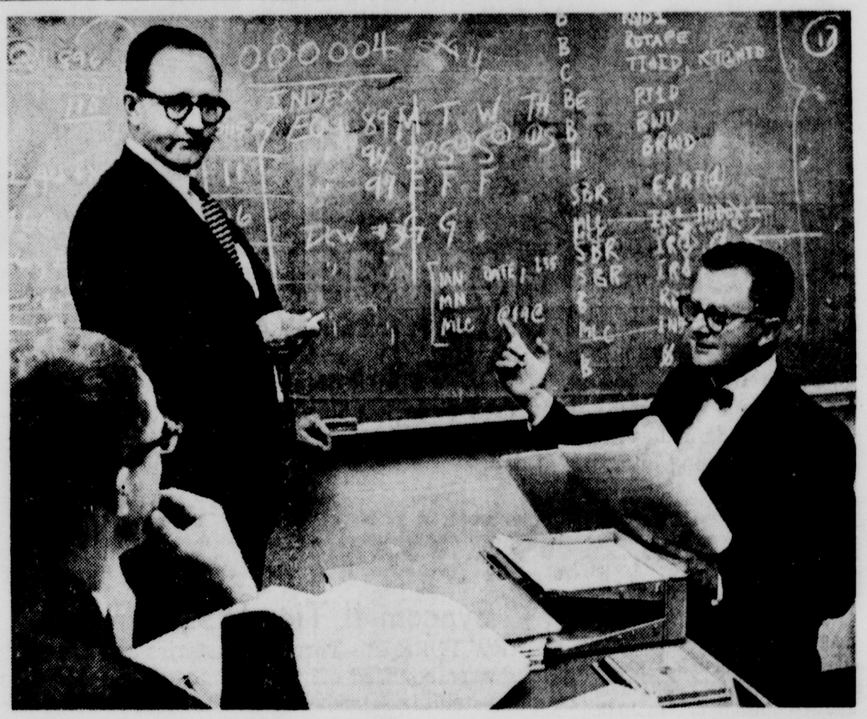

WINE TOAST

Immediately after the simultaneous signing by the three foreign ministers, Gromyko made a speech hailing the treaty as a success of the peaceful policy of the Soviet Union."

He proposed a champagne toast to peace and friendship among nations. Witnesses to the signing clinked glasses with Khrushchev and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, another witness who flew to Moscow for the signing.

Electronic Data Processing Is Making Great Leaps

By ALTON S. BOCK
(First in a Series)

Electronic datta processing—a symbol of present-day business and government—increases its grip on official Marin County year by year.

In the heart of the new Civic Center sits a blue, grey and silver computer machine, known properly as the "1401," but nicknamed "George." It is hypersensitive to dust and cigarette smoke.

It is indifferent to criticism. This expensive machine is the county's chief bookkeeper.

The data processing bureau, set up six years ago, uses electronic equipment to produce paychecks, bills, receipts, records, and dozens of routine calculations for county departments and other public agencies throughout the county.

Data processing is the process of feeding information to "George," which makes lightning-speed calculations and cranks out totals, sub-totals, lists and indexes on a variety of forms.

The data processing bureau, a subdivision of the county auditor's office, does more than 60 regular jobs for county departments and districts—from the printing of the county budget to the production of school report cards.

The mechanics of data processing involves the reduction of information, such as the salary of a county employee or a property owner's tax rate, to a number code which is "read" by the computer.

What "George" does with the information he consumes depends on what results are wanted and what shape they should be in.

Telling "George" what is expected of him is called, in the new language of those whose livelihood depends on mathematical robots, "writing a program." The "programmer," a person trained in mathematics and symbolic logic, decides what facts should be put into the computer, what sort of an-

Assessments Of Utilities Set Record

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Property assessments totalling 4.35 billion dollars were recommended today for California's public utilities.

The valuation division of the State Board of Equalization proposed the record assessments—up 142.25 million dollars from 1962—in a report to the board. The percentage increase is 3.38.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., with 1.26 billion dollars, had the highest valuation, followed closely by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. at 1.19 billion dollars.

The state board has assessed property owned by public utilities for 29 years. All other property is assessed locally for taxation purposes.

In 1962, the assessments yielded a total of 317.5 million dollars to local governments at an average rate of $7.55.

Los Angeles County remained the only one of the 58 containing more than 1 billion dollars worth of utility property. The total in the county was $1,199,808,510. The next highest county was San Bernardino at $260,592,680.

Railroad assessments included:

Southern Pacific Co., 177.6 million dollars; Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, 70 million dollars; Union Pacific, 30.6 million dollars; Western Pacific, 21.9 million dollars.

Child Starts To Use Other Hand

CANOGA PARK (AP) — Doctors haven't told 3-year-old Lyn Seely yet that her right hand is gone. But, they say, she's started to use her left without any prompting.

The youngster's hand was mangled by a Himilayan bear July 26 when she stuck it through cage bars to pet him. She thought it was a big dog.

Doctors amputated the hand Thursday.

Nurses said she's using her left hand to play with crayons, a coloring book and other toys she's received from well-wishers.

Marin City Boys Fix Up Rusty Rifle, Bullet Claims Teener

Victim Is Shot As Youth Drops Firearm At Fence

Four Marin City boys, ages 11 to 15, spent yesterday afternoon shooting two .22 caliber rifles, one of which they had found disassembled in a vacant lot and had put back together.

They started home shortly after 6 p.m. Jimmie C. McDonald, 13, of 241 Drake Avenue, was carrying one of the rifles. As the boys climbed over a fence, he dropped it.

The gun fired. The bullet hit Melvin Howard, 15, of 74 Cole Drive.

Melvin was dead when he reached Marin General Hospital at 7:20 p.m. Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said the bullet entered the boy's chest just below the heart, and death probably was instantaneous.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph G. Kelly said the McDonald boy told him he dropped the gun and it fired as young Howard was on the fence near a fire-trail at the end of Cole Drive.

Young McDonald said he had found the rusty gun in a vacant lot on Bridgeway in Sausalito, and he and Andrew Lee Johnson, 12, of 59 Cole Drive, and Lanny Johnson, 11, of 148 Drake Avenue, repaired it with friction tape and wire so it would shoot.

Andrew Johnson also had another rifle.

Justice Douglas Weds Government Worker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and Miss Joan C. Martin, a government worker, were married today in a quiet ceremony at Williamsville, N. Y.

His new bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Martin of Williamsville.

Until recently, she had been an employee of the agency for international development, which administers the foreign aid program.

A supreme court aide said the wedding took place in the Unitarian Church in Williamsville with the Rev. Robert Wolf officiating.

The spokesman said the associate justice and his new bride left after the ceremony for a month's camping and hiking trip in the mountains of Montana and Washington.

Douglas was divorced by his second wife, Mercedes Hester, on July 31. They had been married quietly at her home in Tallalah, La., in December, 1954.

His first marriage to the former Mildred Riddle also ended in divorce 17 months before that. She had charged that the jurist had left her "abandoned and alone" with his work and travels. They had been married 30 years.

Douglas had two children by his first wife.

The father of Douglas' new bride is a partner in the well-known accounting firm of Price, Waterhouse and Co.

Industry Zoning Will Remain

Paganini Industrial Park, at the north edge of Corte Madera west of Highway 101, will remain in zoning which permits light industry and apartments, the Marin County Planning Commission ruled today.

The commission by unanimous vote turned down a petition of some 500 nearby homeowners that the zoning be made for restricted to prevent building an apartment house in the seven-acre industrial park, Hill Book Co. plant and Marin Municipal Water District headquarters.

"The owners have already invested $97,000 in the land for fill and leveling," said Attorney Leland H. Jordan, representing owners Cypress Properties Inc.

William T. Sheehan, representing petitioners, argued that "maximum return of profit to the investor should not be a consideration where there is a detriment to adjoining properties."

Commissioners, however, agreed with chairman Niels Schultz Jr., that there was no evidence that inclusion of apartments along with light industry would damage the neighboring homeowners.

Approval Seen For Treaty If No Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating predicts overwhelming Senate approval for the limited nuclear test ban treaty if Secretary of State Dean Rusk makes it clear that no "under-the-table" deals are involved.

Keating, a New York Republican, said he asked Rusk for assurance that U.S. negotiators have not agreed to a nonaggression pact or increased trade as a price for the agreement being signed today in Moscow.

Bulk Of Short Ranch Zoning Awaits Study

The bulk of nearly 300 acres of undeveloped land between Sleepy Hollow, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Terra Linda was left out of any rezoning consideration today by the Marin County Planning Commission until a study of traffic circulation is completed.

Zoning of the area, known as the Short Ranch, has been under study since early this year.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs announced at the outset of today's hearing that the planning staff proposed "changes in only part of the area at this time."

Chairman Niels Schultz Jr. announced the rest would be postponed "until we work out traffic circulation patterns."

Slightly under 50 acres along the fringe of the wooded, hillside lands were approved for rezoning, mostly for single family dwellings but with one area left agricultural, by 4-1 vote, with Schultz dissenting. The area has been in interim zoning permitting homes and agricultural uses.

Development of any heavily used roads from Terra Linda to the Ross Valley by way of the Sleepy Hollow homes associations.

The story said Hood strongly criticized Gov. George Wallace, said that university officials tried to trick him into a situation calling for his expulsion, and contended that a university professor might be fired because he had given Hood an "A."

Another Buddhist Burns Self To Death

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A Buddhist monk in his early twenties burned himself to death in the second fiery suicide protesting alleged religious persecution by President Ngo Dinh Diem's government in South Viet Nam.

Nguyen Huong set fire to his gasoline-soaked robes yesterday in a public square in Phan Thiet, a fishing village 100 miles east of Saigon.

Syria Cabinet

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Prime Minister Salah Bitar today announced formation of his third cabinet in five months.

The cabinet shuffle came during a heated war of words between President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Syria's ruling Ba'ath Socialist party. But it indicated no changes in Syria's foreign and economic policies.

Blast In Italy

BOLZANO, Italy (AP)—Three explosions peppered the heart of Bolzano today, just 24 hours after terrorists in the troubled Italian South Tyrol dropped a bomb down a police barracks chimney and gravely injured two prisoners.

No one was hurt in the three new blasts.

The dynamitings appear to signal a new wave of agitation by German-speaking residents of this north Italian Alpine region that was Austrian territory until World War I.

Marriage Off

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress June Allyson announced and canceled marriage plans within 12 hours this weekend, but later indicated she still plans to marry as soon as legal matters are straightened out.

Miss Allyson, 39, widow of Dick Powell, said she had planned to marry Glenn Maxwell, 35, a Newport Beach barbershop owner, in Las Vegas, Nev., in a ceremony attended by her daughter, Pam, 14, and son Rickey, 13.

She said her funds "are naturally tied up in the estate of my late husband Dick Powell," who died of cancer last Jan. 2.

"If I marry right now, I will lose my widow's allowance from the estate."

Bad Winter In China Brought Near Revolution

State Department Reveals Documents Of Peking Army

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Top-secret documents now in the hands of the United States show that conditions were so bad in Red China during the winter of 1960-61 that there was a threat of revolution.

U.S. officials said today that the documents, in the form of journals of the Communist Chinese army, represented "one of the most important caches of material" ever obtained from behind the Bamboo Curtain.

One official said it was "like getting a look at the dark side of the moon." The documents depicted serious shortages of food and other basic needs for both the army and the general public. During one period, the journals say, there were a number of "disturbances" in the area of Canton, where civilian members of the militia rose in protest and killed a number of Communist Party members and disrupted communications.

ARMY DEFACTORS

The militiamen, who are under indirect army control, were said to have been joined in some instances by defectors from the army. The documents designate the number of defectors with Xs. There was no explanation of how many men an X represented, but a State Department spokesman said U.S. analysts believed each X represented at least 1,000 men —possibly more.

Regular army troops apparently were sent in to quell the uprisings and the militia was subsequently reorganized with regular army officers taking a more direct hand in controlling it.

The State Department said the documents had been in U.S. hands for "some time" but declined to say how they were obtained. Officials said they covered activities from about mid-1960 to mid-1961. They went only to top Red Chinese army and government officials.

The Journals were issued irregularly, sometimes two or three times a month. A U.S. spokesman said they apparently were published more frequently when conditions were at peak seriousness and came out at longer-spaced periods when things were relatively normal.

The harsh winter of 1960-61 hit the regular army as well as the civilian population which, the documents showed, in some areas reached the point of near-rebellion.

GOVERNMENT VIEW

The Peking government viewed the situation with great seriousness, the data indicated, and took action action aimed at easing tension in both the army and among the civilian population.

The army came first, which had its food rations increased. This did not immediately satisfy the troops, however. They still were worried about their relatives who were near starvation. The documents also showed that the physical condition of troops did not materially improve because they were secretly sending their extra rations home.

Production of motorized fire equipment in the United States during 1961 included 2,060 pumpers, 141 hook and ladder trucks, and 167 crash trucks, hose cars and squad cars.

Nation Focuses On Mississippi Vote

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — President John F. Kennedy is very much in the Mississippi Democratic primary even though his name isn't on the ballot for the election tomorrow.

What one candidate calls a "cuss the Kennedy" campaign has overshadowed traditional state issues in the heated campaign to pick the probable successor of 65-year-old Gov. Ross Barnett.

Barnett, who attracted worldwide prominence last fall by defying the federal government in the court-ordered admission of James H. Meredith, a Negro, to the University of Mississippi, cannot succeed himself.

Traditionally, the incumbent governor takes no part in the campaign to choose his successor. Barnett has held to this line, saying he was too busy with affairs of state.

The four Democratic candidates are:

J. P. (for James Plennon) Coleman, 49, of Ackerman, governor in 1956-60. A lawyer, he has been in the state house of representatives for the past four years. Before winning the governorship, he was a district attorney, circuit judge, state supreme court justice and attorney general. He has never lost a statewide election.

Paul B. Johnson, 47, of Hattiesburg, the lieutenant governor. A World War II Marine captain and son of a former governor, Johnson — like Barnett — faces federal criminal contempt proceedings stemming from the Meredith case. Johnson has made four previous attempts for the governorship; he was defeated the last time in 1955 by Coleman.

Robert Mason, 60, of Magee, a welder who earned the nickname "blowtorch" for his colorful stump speeches during the 1959 gubernatorial campaign. He finished last in a four-man field with about 20,000 votes.

Charles Sullivan, 38, of Clarksdale, the third major candidate. Sullivan, a prematurely gray-haired ex-district attorney, finished a surprisingly strong third in the 1959 gubernatorial campaign. He is a state rights advocate who says he will bolt the Democratic party rather than vote for Kennedy. In 1960 Sullivan supported Barnett's winning slate of unpledged presidential electors and was the presidential candidate of the Constitution Party in Texas.

With 560,000 registered voters, election officials forecast a record turnout of more than 450,000.

Although Democratic victory has virtually assured election for nearly a century, Republicans are mounting their first serious bid for the state house in decades.

Onetime Democrat Rubel Phillips, 38, is stumping the state as the GOP standard-bearer for the general election. Republicans hope to capitalize on dissatisfaction with the Kennedy administration and the national Democrat party.

It could be late Wednesday before the results are determined. With a long list of candidates for other races and hand counting in all counties except one, the results will be slow in being tallied.

None of the three major candidates is expected to win a clearcut majority, which means the top two would go into an Aug. 27 runoff.

Henry Ford II, Wife, Are Legally Separated

NEW YORK (UPI) — There may be an Austin in Henry Ford's future, according to speculation in social circles here.

The legal separation of the auto tycoon, Henry Ford, and Mrs. Anne McDonnell Ford after 23 years of marriage was announced Saturday. The New York newspapers today identified Ford's most frequent female companion of late as Mrs. Christina Austin, Italian-born divorced wife of British naval officer William Austin.

Mrs. Austin was quoted by the New York World-Telegram as saying she and Ford had no definite plans for the future although their "circles may cross" in Europe later this month. Ford is vacationing in Europe and Mrs. Austin is leaving within a day or two to visit a sister in St. Moritz.

Mrs. Austin, a native of Milan, is a blonde beauty who has been seen with Ford in public on many occasions this summer. They met in Paris last year at a party at Maxim's Restaurant for Prince Rainier III of Monaco and Princess Grace. Mrs. Austin maintains a Park Avenue apartment here.

Pierre V. Heftler, an attorney, announced the Ford's separation agreement but refused to disclose details of a financial arrangement. Ford became a Catholic in order to marry Mrs. Ford, granddaughter of famed inventor Thomas E. Murray, in 1940.

The Fords have two daughters and a son.

Bridegroom Dies Few Hours Before Time Of Wedding

VALLEJO (AP)—William Miles and Loraine Balcena rehearsed their marriage ceremony at St. Vincent's Church Friday night.

Six hours later, Miles died in a two-car accident two blocks from the Roman Catholic Church where he was to marry his 17-year-old sweetheart on Saturday.

Police said Miles, 21, was riding with two other Marines when their car collided with another at an intersection. They were on their way back to Mare Island Naval Shipyard where they are stationed after attending a bachelor party for Miles.

The same priest who was to have married William and Loraine was called to the scene of the crash. He told Miss Balcena of her fiancee's death.

Lewis For Goldwater

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Fulton Lewis Jr. told the Christian Crusade on Sunday that Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater would make an outstanding president.

Lewis, a syndicated columnisand radio commentator, said "the only man I've ever met in public life I'd be willing to underwrite blind on any decision he might make or any action he might take is Barry Goldwater."

Lewis pictured President John F. Kennedy as a "pleasant, superficial playboy who has no more business being president than I have being God."

A head-and-shoulder photograph of President John F. Kennedy also was relayed to Lagos.

From Nigeria, a 300-word press communique and a photograph of Nigerian Gov. Gen. Nnamdi Azikiwe were sent to the U.S.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Montgomery Advertiser says University of Alabama officials are considering expelling James A. Hood, a Negro, because of statements he allegedly made at a Negro rally.

The story said Hood strongly criticized Gov. George Wallace, said that university officials tried to trick him into a situation calling for his expulsion, and contended that a university professor might be fired because he had given Hood an "A."

More Court Action Due In Profumo Case

LONDON (AP) — More court action appears in prospect in the wake of the vice trial and suicide of Dr. Stephen Ward, who believed he was the scapegoat of Britain's sex and security scandal.

Before swallowing the barbituates that snuffed out his life Saturday after an 80-hour coma, Ward wrote in one of many suicide notes, "The ritual sacrifice is demanded and I cannot stand it."

Leading lawyers and legislators voiced concern over several aspects of the trial in which Ward, 50, was cleared of three vice charges and found guilty of two others—living off the earnings of prostitutes Christine Keeler and Marilyn Mandy) Rice-Davis.

Legal experts said they expect action against at least two prosecution witnesses. Call girls Vicky Barrett and Ronna Ricardo admitted in court they lied under oath.

Moon Race Is Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory, said today that Russia is not in a space race with the United States to land a man on the moon.

The famous astronomer said Russian scientists consider there are two "insuperable difficulties" now to a manned lunar flight.

They still have not solved the problem of providing sufficient protection for a man against solar radiation, he said.

Secondly, Lovell said, Russian scientists believe it is not now economically feasible to land enough equipment on the moon to carry out a research program, and still get a ma back to earth.

Lovell said he agreed wit the U.S. space program, whic he said, feels these problen can be solved.

Neimoeller Hopes For Protestant, Catholic Union

HELSINKI, Finland (UPI)—West German Lutheran pastor Martin Niemoeller, who won worldwide acclaim for his opposition to Adolf Hitler, said yesterday he has "high hopes" that Protestants and Catholics may work together one day.

The 71-year-old pastor of Wiesbaden, Germany, who served as a World War 1 submarine commander and was an inmate of a Nazi prison in World War II, said the materialistic world is "absolutely at a loss" now to deal with the real needs of humanity.

In an interview, Niemoeller, who is attending the fourth assembly of the Lutheran World Federation, ranged over a number of topics.

Churches, he said, should "control and re-examine" their doctrines, which are often considered to be "absolutely true."

"They are not true," he said, "but rather human expressions of what our faith means to us."

By stripping away doctrines and concentrating on the matter of faith, the Protestant and Catholic Churches may find that they are basically close to each other.

Niemoeller said the churches of East Germany are ceasing to wait for a change and are instead looking at East Germany "as it is today—a socialist or communist state."

Their duty now, he said, is to find out how they best can serve people who must live in such a society.

Woman Takes Own Life, Husband Died In 1956

On March 2, 1956, Herbert K. Reynolds, San Rafael advertising executive, was found dead in his home at 1314 Grand Avenue, a gunshot wound in the brain.

County Coroner Frank J. Keaton ruled the wound was self-inflicted. Reynolds had been suffering from cancer of the lung.

Reynolds' wife, Mary Bunker Reynolds, never fully recovered from the shock of her husband's death. She brooded over inability to provide the educational opportunities that she and her husband had planned for their four sons.

Yesterday morning, son Thomas, 21, found his mother dead in a bedroom of the family home at 45 Greenfield Avenue, shot in the head with a .22-caliber rifle which lay beside her. Coroner Keaton ruled the death was self-inflicted.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Mrs. Reynolds had been treated at Ross Hospital last month after an overdose of sleeping pills, and more recently had received treatment at the hospital's phychiatric ward.

She had resided in Marin County since 1948, and in California for 35 years. She was born in Seattle, Wash.

The four sons are Thomas and Richard, at the home; Robert, in the Army stationed in Washington, D.C., and residing in Arlington, Va., and James Lee Reynolds of Oakland. She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bunker of San Mateo.

Private funeral services were held today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Cool Youth Is Suspect In Burglary

A slender young man kept a cool head in a hot situation yesterday, and sheriff's officers have picked him as the top suspect in a $1,757 daylight Kentfield burglary. But they don't know who he is.

Missing from the home of Frank A. Barsocchini at 11 Meadow Avenue, Kentfield, are jewelry, including a $500 wristwatch, and nine credit cards.

The young man was surprised by Barsocchini's daughter, Lois, 13, and her friend, Mary McBride Foster, 12, as they entered the house at 2:45 p.m.

The girls told Deputy Sheriff Arthur V. Menjou the man was walking down stairs, a napkin in each hand. He said, "I'll see you later," and quietly walked out the front door.

He was described as about 19 years old, six feet tall, with dark brown hair, wearing tennis shoes, tan pants and a white sweater.

At the time of the burglary, Menjou was on the way to the area to check on the report of a prowler fitting the same description near the home of Mrs. Ruth Ann Peterson at 3 Meadow Avenue.

Still another neighbor, Mrs. Paul S. Foster, Mary Foster's mother, at 218 Laurel Grove Avenue, said she saw the man running down the street just after the girls had seen him.

Menjou said the man had apparently entered the house through unlocked sliding glass doors from a patio.

"temptation to do so because of the road's accessibility to other proposed routes over the hill, but he asked the commission "not to succumb."

Thomas W. Stoddard, speaking for the San Anselmo group, said any road development should "not disturb existing residential neighborhoods." He urged that single-family residential zoning should dominate.

The commission also heard a letter from San Anselmo Mayor Arthur W. Smith, asking for single-family residential zoning.

Single family zoning was approved for the following areas: Oak Crest Road and the Alameda, near the San Anselmo city line; area bordered by Pasadena Avenue and Sacramento Boulevard; area on the San Anselmo side of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, and that surrounding the Cedars Development School. Limited agricultural zoning was approved for two and one-half acres near the cemetery, just north of the San Rafael city line and off Fifth Avenue.

fence, the three boys at first tried to carry him home, but he was too heavy to get over the fence.

Help for the boy was delayed further when Deputy Kelly, after being called, had to return to the Marin City firehouse to get a key to open the gate to the firetrail.

At first the boys told deputies they had seen other boys shooting at them from higher up the hill, but later admitted they had the guns. The weapons were found in bushes near the scene.

Young Howard is survived by his parents, Ulysses and Gladis Grey Howard; two sisters, Mildred Howard and Vickey Grey, and three brothers, Eugene Howard, Johnnie Grey and Ronnie Grey, all of Marin City.

Woman Takes Own Life, Husband Died In 1956

On March 2, 1956, Herbert K. Reynolds, San Rafael advertising executive, was found dead in his home at 1314 Grand Avenue, a gunshot wound in the brain.

County Coroner Frank J. Keaton ruled the wound was self-inflicted. Reynolds had been suffering from cancer of the lung.

Reynolds' wife, Mary Bunker Reynolds, never fully recovered from the shock of her husband's death. She brooded over inability to provide the educational opportunities that she and her husband had planned for their four sons.

Yesterday morning, son Thomas, 21, found his mother dead in a bedroom of the family home at 45 Greenfield Avenue, shot in the head with a .22-caliber rifle which lay beside her. Coroner Keaton ruled the death was self-inflicted.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Mrs. Reynolds had been treated at Ross Hospital last month after an overdose of sleeping pills, and more recently had received treatment at the hospital's phychiatric ward.

She had resided in Marin County since 1948, and in California for 35 years. She was born in Seattle, Wash.

The four sons are Thomas and Richard, at the home; Robert, in the Army stationed in Washington, D.C., and residing in Arlington, Va., and James Lee Reynolds of Oakland. She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bunker of San Mateo.

Private funeral services were held today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Cool Youth Is Suspect In Burglary

A slender young man kept a cool head in a hot situation yesterday, and sheriff's officers have picked him as the top suspect in a $1,757 daylight Kentfield burglary. But they don't know who he is.

Missing from the home of Frank A. Barsocchini at 11 Meadow Avenue, Kentfield, are jewelry, including a $500 wristwatch, and nine credit cards.

The young man was surprised by Barsocchini's daughter, Lois, 13, and her friend, Mary McBride Foster, 12, as they entered the house at 2:45 p.m.

The girls told Deputy Sheriff Arthur V. Menjou the man was walking down stairs, a napkin in each hand. He said, "I'll see you later," and quietly walked out the front door.

He was described as about 19 years old, six feet tall, with dark brown hair, wearing tennis shoes, tan pants and a white sweater.

At the time of the burglary, Menjou was on the way to the area to check on the report of a prowler fitting the same description near the home of Mrs. Ruth Ann Peterson at 3 Meadow Avenue.

Still another neighbor, Mrs. Paul S. Foster, Mary Foster's mother, at 218 Laurel Grove Avenue, said she saw the man running down the street just after the girls had seen him.

Menjou said the man had apparently entered the house through unlocked sliding glass doors from a patio.

ZONE

"temptation to do so because of the road's accessibility to other proposed routes over the hill, but he asked the commission "not to succumb."

Thomas W. Stoddard, speaking for the San Anselmo group, said any road development should "not disturb existing residential neighborhoods." He urged that single-family residential zoning should dominate.

The commission also heard a letter from San Anselmo Mayor Arthur W. Smith, asking for single-family residential zoning.

Single family zoning was approved for the following areas: Oak Crest Road and the Alameda, near the San Anselmo city line; area bordered by Pasadena Avenue and Sacramento Boulevard; area on the San Anselmo side of Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, and that surrounding the Cedars Development School. Limited agricultural zoning was approved for two and one-half acres near the cemetery, just north of the San Rafael city line and off Fifth Avenue.

fence, the three boys at first tried to carry him home, but he was too heavy to get over the fence.

Help for the boy was delayed further when Deputy Kelly, after being called, had to return to the Marin City firehouse to get a key to open the gate to the firetrail.

At first the boys told deputies they had seen other boys shooting at them from higher up the hill, but later admitted they had the guns. The weapons were found in bushes near the scene.

Young Howard is survived by his parents, Ulysses and Gladis Grey Howard; two sisters, Mildred Howard and Vickey Grey, and three brothers, Eugene Howard, Johnnie Grey and Ronnie Grey, all of Marin City.

Marin Is Ideal For Recreation

Marin County is ideally located to serve the recreation needs of the Bay Area's growing population, but the county needs money and proper planning to develop its potential parks.

This is the warning of State Recreation Commission Chairman Mrs. Dewey J. Forry of Marinwood, who has just submitted the commission's annual report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

"Marin, like all counties in the state, has been slow to meet the demands of a mobile population seeking recreation," Mrs. Forry said. "People from San Francisco flood the county every weekend. They go to state parks and county parks—which don't offer much. People are using the land, but the county doesn't have funds to develop a great deal."

It's the job of the 15-year-old commission, she said, to establish the needs of metropolitan areas for recreation and see that "enough regional parks are set up and coordinated to care for everybody."

The commission, she said, has informed the governor that passage of a 150-million-dollar bond issue is essential to give counties which are "high in recreation resources but low in funds" enough money to acquire more park lands.

Such a bond issue, turned down by voters last year, will again be on the ballot in November, 1964.

To be eligible for any funds, should the bond issue be approved, Marin must have a master plan for potential parks, Mrs. Forry said. The County Parks and Recreation Commission last week authorized a plan, and Director Kelvin J. Nelson expects completion next spring.

"Everybody talks about regional parks and such things," said Mrs. Forry, "but we have to establish the criteria for these parks and get out and find the reaction of counties which can offer such parks.

"Marin fits in beautifully as a recreation resource for a large metropolitan area, but we have got to get on the ball."

She said the commission will begin a study of recreation potentials in 11 Bay Area counties, including Marin, this fall.

Mrs. Forry, who resides at 2615 Heatherstone Drive in Marinwood, was appointed by the governor to the commission in April, 1961, and was named chairman in May, 1962. She is also a member and former chairman of the Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission.

Fascist Meeting

ROME (AP) — Itady's Fascist party ended a three-day national congress last night with black eyes and split ranks.

A fist-swinging free-for-all that broke out when young members jeered a speaker sent two delegates to the hospital and left scores of others with shiners.

Then a group of delegates walked out and set up its own meeting in an adjacent room to dramatize their disagreement with Arturo Michelini, party secretary general, who favors achievement of party aims within the framework of the current parliamentary framework of government. Almirante's followers claim this won't work.

WORK WILL BEGIN ON COYOTE CREEK

Corps Of Engineers Notifies County Project To Control Flooding Approved, Has Funds

Work on the long-discussed Coyote Creek flood control project should begin next spring, Marin County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said today.

The Army Corps of Engineers has notified the county that the project has been approved by the chief of the corps and funds are included in the 1963-64 budget. Canal dredging and construction from Tamalpais Valley to the Richardson Bay Bridge should be completed by October, 1964, according to corps estimates.

"The need for flood control in the area was studied after the 1955 floods," Frost said, "and it was tentatively approved the following year, but funds were never allocated. Now, the corps is authorized to spend up to one million dollars on the project. A call for bids will be put out probably next March."

Construction of a dirt channel from Shoreline Highway to Flamingo Road and a concrete channel from Flamingo Road to Maple Avenue will require condemnation of several properties in the Kay Park area, Frost said.

"It will hit a lot of single-family homes, but people in the subdivision have petitioned the corps, asking for immediate construction, so there should be no great problem," he said. Precise right-of-way requirements have not yet been determined, he reported, but construction is likely to affect "over 100 percels."

In addition to federal funds for construction the state department of water resources has budgeted $500,000 for purrhase of rights of way. The rounty department of public works may also spend up to $33,600 toward the project, from funds allocated for the Richardson Bay Flood Control zone.

Acquisition of land for construction and widening of channels will be handled by the county, Frost said, and will result in the hiring of extra part-time appraisers in the public works department. Costs will be paid back by the state.

Boy Crushed To Death Under Car

A six-year-old San Francisco boy was killed yesterday when his grandmother's runaway car crushed him.

Eugene Abbott of 16 Harding Drive, Novato, visiting his father-in-law in San Francisco, rushed to help free young Michael Greefkens, who was playing in front of his home when the car slipped its brakes and pinned him against the bumper of a second car.

His grandmother, Mrs. Lucille Fabbris, 67, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Greefkens at 20 Vasquez Avenue, was in the house and unaware of the accident.

Abbott, in the house with his father-in-law, Robert Behlow, at 30 Vasquez Avenue, rushed outside when he learned of the accident. When he and Behlow were unable to budge the car, Abbott rushed to Greefken's home, got the car key and moved the car. The boy was dead on arrival at Park Emergency Hospital at 4:45 p.m.

More Race Violence Wells Up In Chicago

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Chicago's racially troubled South Side had another outbreak of violence last night but police quickly restored order.

A crowd of white teen-agers gathered at an intersection following reports—which authorities discounted—that a Negro family planned to move into the block. Police attempted to break up the gathering and youths scuffled with the officers.

Police arrested 35 youths for disorderly conduct and the other teen-agers dispersed.

Other developments:

Nashville, Tenn.—Two previously segregated high schools were to open their doors today to 16 Negroes. The action in both cases is strictly voluntary, but results from the fact there are no Negro high schools in the area.

Farmville, Va. — Negroes ended a daily series of racial protests in their Prince Edward County town yesterday but demonstration were expected to resume today.

Clarksdale, Miss. — Aaron Henry, Negro civil rights leader jailed for participating in an anti-segregation demonstration, was free on an appeal bond yesterday after spending six days in jail.

Montgomery, Ala. — Three Negro women will be hired by the police department to supervise traffic at crossings near Negro schools. Commissioner Lester B. Sullivan said the women would be chosen from a group of 25 who took examinations last week.

New York—The social action council of the United Church of Christ urged 15,000 ministers and lay leaders yesterday to participate in the scheduled mass civil rights demonstration in Washington Aug. 28.

Albany, N.Y.—Sir Mohammed Zafrulla Khan, of Pakistan, the president of the U.N. General Assembly said yesterday that people in other countries were sympathetic toward efforts the United States is making to obtain racial equality.

Sales of power motors in the United States will amount to 4.3 million this year.

FOOD FOR GEORGE — IBM 1401 lives on punched cards. Without them, he is just a cageful of useless wires. Mrs. Ancil Moody, supervisor, checks cards prepared by Mrs. Jack Curley (rear) and Mrs. Rachael Logsdon, key punch operators at the county data processing bureau, as diet for "George."

GEORGE

swers are needed, and how the computer's complex electronic "memory" should be controlled to produce the data as rapidly and efficiently as possible.

Basic facts are gathered by humans. In the case of the county's monthly payroll, these include each employee's rate of pay, tax and insurance deductions. These are punched on cards in code form.

Before getting to "George," the master brain, the cards are perused by lesser electronic machines such as an "interpreter," which types letters at the top of a card so that untutored humans might read them; a "sorter," which puts cards in order according to the scheme desired, and a "collator," which compares cards and organizes them into groups and sub-groups.

This preparation, according to the rules set forth by the "program," puts the entire payroll into the hands of "George," who makes his calculations and —if all goes well—tosses out in jig time all employees' paychecks, withholding statements, and necessary records for the auditor and treasurer.

For work that "George" does regularly, such as payrolls, he copies data from the cards onto magnetic tapes, which store the information until needed.

This tireless machine hums away 168 hours a month, sometimes 24 hours a day, and when the county isn't using it "George's" services are sold to other counties, cities, business firms and out-of-county school districts.

"We are doing less outside work all the time," says "George's" mentor, data processing director Arleigh Sewell, "and we'll soon be using the machine entirely for county work."

The county expects to collect about $64,000 next year from non-county agencies which will use the computer during hours it's not working for Marin.

The auditor's office alone now uses "George" for 17 jobs. Other major users are the assessor, welfare department, and tax collector.

All school districts in the county, through the county superintendent of schools office, rely on "George" to turn out paychecks for teachers and other employees. San Rafael, Tamalpais and Novato districts use the computer for producing high school report cards and class schedules.

But "George" cannot boast a perfect job record.

Twice last year school employees got their checks several days late. In September, "George" put the wrong date on all checks and had to rewrite them. A month later, withholding taxes were computed incorrectly and checks had to be sent back.

Sewell claims such problems popped up soon after the computer was installed and are not likely to happen again.

Other school uses of the computer, such as test scoring, have increased enough so that Sewell is asking this year that school districts hire their own "program writer."

How electronic computers have come to dominate affairs today is indicated by the fact that the State Department of Education and the Federal Health, Education and Welfare Department will soon require uniform statistics from schools, geared to the techniques of computers.

Election results in Marin for the past two years have been tallied by data processing. But "George," again not performing too well, won some notoriety for the county through his painfully slow count of last November's returns. Marin succeeded in being the last county in the state to report election totals.

Sewell says the trouble was due to flaws in the program, no fault of "George."

Voter registrations are now being put on a program designed to "George's" satisfaction, and next June's primary election returns will again be run off electronically.

Water bills and annual reports for the North Marin County Water District are computed and printed by "George." Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager, says the county service has been excellent.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes
Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

FOOD FOR GEORGE — IBM 1401 lives on punched cards. Without them, he is just a cageful of useless wires. Mrs. Ancil Moody, supervisor, checks cards prepared by Mrs. Jack Curley (rear) and Mrs. Rachael Logsdon, key punch operators at the county data processing bureau, as diet for "George."

swers are needed, and how the computer's complex electronic "memory" should be controlled to produce the data as rapidly and efficiently as possible.

Basic facts are gathered by humans. In the case of the county's monthly payroll, these include each employee's rate of pay, tax and insurance deductions. These are punched on cards in code form.

Before getting to "George," the master brain, the cards are perused by lesser electronic machines such as an "interpreter," which types letters at the top of a card so that untutored humans might read them; a "sorter," which puts cards in order according to the scheme desired, and a "collator," which compares cards and organizes them into groups and sub-groups.

This preparation, according to the rules set forth by the "program," puts the entire payroll into the hands of "George," who makes his calculations and —if all goes well—tosses out in jig time all employees' paychecks, withholding statements, and necessary records for the auditor and treasurer.

For work that "George" does regularly, such as payrolls, he copies data from the cards onto magnetic tapes, which store the information until needed.

This tireless machine hums away 168 hours a month, sometimes 24 hours a day, and when the county isn't using it "George's" services are sold to other counties, cities, business firms and out-of-county school districts.

"We are doing less outside work all the time," says "George's" mentor, data processing director Arleigh Sewell, "and we'll soon be using the machine entirely for county work."

The county expects to collect about $64,000 next year from non-county agencies which will use the computer during hours it's not working for Marin.

The auditor's office alone now uses "George" for 17 jobs. Other major users are the assessor, welfare department, and tax collector.

All school districts in the county, through the county superintendent of schools office, rely on "George" to turn out paychecks for teachers and other employees. San Rafael, Tamalpais and Novato districts use the computer for producing high school report cards and class schedules.

But "George" cannot boast a perfect job record.

Twice last year school employees got their checks several days late. In September, "George" put the wrong date on all checks and had to rewrite them. A month later, withholding taxes were computed incorrectly and checks had to be sent back.

Sewell claims such problems popped up soon after the computer was installed and are not likely to happen again.

Other school uses of the computer, such as test scoring, have increased enough so that Sewell is asking this year that school districts hire their own "program writer."

How electronic computers have come to dominate affairs today is indicated by the fact that the State Department of Education and the Federal Health, Education and Welfare Department will soon require uniform statistics from schools, geared to the techniques of computers.

Election results in Marin for the past two years have been tallied by data processing. But "George," again not performing too well, won some notoriety for the county through his painfully slow count of last November's returns. Marin succeeded in being the last county in the state to report election totals.

Sewell says the trouble was due to flaws in the program, no fault of "George."

Voter registrations are now being put on a program designed to "George's" satisfaction, and next June's primary election returns will again be run off electronically.

Water bills and annual reports for the North Marin County Water District are computed and printed by "George." Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager, says the county service has been excellent.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Wirtz Calls In Unions, Rails For More Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz called in railroad management and union representatives today in an effort to spark a new round of negotiations on the strike-threatened work rules dispute.

With a nationwide rail tieup in prospect Aug. 29 unless Congress acts or a settlement of the four-year-old jobs dilemma is reached, the Labor Department is keeping the heat on the two sides, trying to propel them toward hard bargaining.

Wirtz offered suggestions "relative to the key issues" Friday night—there has been no public disclosure of their nature—and he and Asst. Secretary James J. Reynolds conferred last weekend with management and union representatives.

Asked last night if any move toward agreement had developed, Reynolds said "not yet, no," but he added. "A very serious attitude has entered into these sessions."

Reynolds said Wirtz' recommendations should serve as "a framework for useful, hard bargaining."

Brown Says De Gaulle Policy Is Tragic, Regrettable

PARIS (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California said today he thinks President Charles de Gaulle's do-it-alone policy is tragic and regrettable.

The governor made the comment in answer to a news conference question on De Gaulle's refusal to adhere to the Moscow nuclear test ban treaty and his determination to have an independent nuclear force.

'I think it is tragic that President de Gaulle is taking this course," Brown said.

On relations between the United States and France, Brown said "public opinion in the United States is puzzled by De Gaulle."

The governor said he thinks it would be good if De Gaulle and President Kennedy could meet.

Brown is on a European vacation and business trip. He called it a "probing expedition" to determine if trade between Californina and European countries can be increased. After talks with French officials he said he is optimistic on prospects for more trade and for an increase in European tourist business in California.

"I think we can encourage large manufacturers to set up plants in California," he said, "and the tourist business has been untouched."

Brown said a real breakthrough had been made for California wines during his stay here. He said that for the first time in its history, Maxim's, a Paris restaurant, served California wine when he dined there.

BUGS ON LITTER

Negroes Are Refused At Rod, Gun Pier

A party of four persons which included two Negroes was refused boat launching privileges for their boat last Wednesday at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, it was disclosed yesterday.

Jon W. Ghiringhelli of 45 Hickory Road, Fairfax, said caretaker Charles Whiting told the two Negroes: "You can't come in here. We don't want colored people."

The incident began about 11 a.m. when Ghiringhelli drove onto the club's grounds with member Richard Burke of Bolinas Road, Fairfax, to launch Ghiringhelli's boat for a day of fishing.

In another car, according to Ghiringhelli, were Edward Bohanon and his brother, Cecil, of Vallejo. Bohanon and Burke are employees of Deer Park Villa, owned by Ghiringhelli's parents.

Ghiringhelli said he signed in at the check stand with Burke's card as it was his boat. As they were backing the boat onto the ramp, caretaker Whiting came out.

Ghiringhelli said after Whiting told the Negroes to get off the grounds, Burke showed his membership and explained they were his guests.

He said Whiting replied: "I'll have your card revoked, if you bring them in." The party left and launched their boat at Loch Lomond Marina in San Rafael after a heated argument.

Whiting said today that he did not know that the Negroes were with a member as they got out of a separate car. He said that after he was shown the membership card he refused launching privileges because Ghiringhelli "called me everything he could think of."

"We got to be respected too," Whiting said.

Club secretary Paul Ware said there had been a "misunderstanding." He said a letter was to be written to the persons involved explaining the situation.

Ware said the club, which has no Negro members, has no rocial restriction on membership. "We have gotten no applications from Negroes for membership. They are perfectly welcome as guests," he said.

General Store Still Open After Morning Fire

Bird and Hound General Store in Tiburon was open for business today despite the fact some of the store's clothing stock took a drenching at 12:23 a.m. when a fire broke out in a restroom above in the Dock Restaurant.

Water damage, undetermined by co-owners Kirk Bassett and Bennett Wren, was caused by automatic sprinklers which were released by the fire. The fire, Chief Frank J. Buscher said, was believed caused by a cigarette in a clothes rack in the men employees' restroom. Minor damage resulted. The Dock is at 25 Main Street and the Bird and Hound at 23 Main Street.

Family Escapes Serious Injury

A South San Francisco family of four escaped with bruises about 10:40 p.m. yesterday when their southbound car overturned on the wrong side of Highway 101 about two miles south of the Marin County northern boundary.

William J. Cameron, 43, told California haighway patrolmen D. F. Sully and Donald Dowling he entered the divider line and the car veered from right to left before crossing the Northbound lanes and plunging down an embankment, tearing through 60 feet of fence of the Joe Silvera Ranch.

Saratoga Man Cited For Unsafe Speed

Joseph Alves, 60, of Saratoga, was cited for unsafe speed for conditions after his southbound car hit the rear of a car driven by Clarence F. Andre, 60, of Napa, on Highway 101 five miles north of Novato.

California Highway Patrolman Gerald Walkup said the accident happened when Andre stopped for traffic. Andre was bruised and was to see his doctor.

Black Muslims Stage Protest At Quentin

They gathered in the prison yard to hear what prison officials labeled an "inflammatory" sermon by Jesse L. Dyes, ringleader of the demonstration.

The brief disturbance during the pre-noon recreation period was broken up without incident, reported Joseph R. O'Brien, officer of the day.

Dyes, 27, serving a one-to-10-year term for narcotics possession in Kern County, was placed in isolation. He faces a disciplinary hearing tomorrow for violating the rule that forbids unordained ministers to preach religion within the prison.

His listeners faced disciplinary hearings today for unauthorized assembly.

Associate Warden W. D. Achuff said Dyes seeks Black Muslim representation on the Inmate Council. Representation on the council is based upon work areas, not religion, he said.

There are Negroes on the council and there are free elections, Achuff said.

Triple Execution Is Again Scheduled At San Quentin

A triple execution, once delayed, has been rescheduled for Aug. 14 in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber.

Scheduled to die are Joseph Rosoto, 39; John Frank Vlahovich, 31, and Donald Glen Franklin, 34, Anaheim gang killers. They were convicted of killing an Anaheim tavern owner who was to testify against Rosoto at a burglary trial.

The new date was set by Judge Kenneth E. Morrison of Orange County Superior Court.

Rosoto and Vlahovich will be executed at 10 a.m., and Franklin at 2 p.m., Warden Fred R. Dickson announced.

The three were scheduled to die in the gas chamber on May 3. At 7 a.m. that day, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas stayed the execution pending U. S. Supreme Court action on two other cases in which the same legal question was raised as in the case of the three Anaheim killers.

The question involved legality of evidence obtained by secret recording and evidence seized without a search warrant. The Supreme Court subsequently ruled such evidence was permissible and the stays for the trio were vacated.

Complains Of Pains After Auto Hits

Enard T. Lundquist, 66, of 25 Wreden Avenue, Fairfax, complained of neck pains after his eastbound car was hit from behind on Tiburon Boulevard one-third mile east of Tiburon's Main Street at 2:40 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said Lundquist's car was hit by one driven by Frank C. Nixon, 63, of 2624 Paradise Drive, Tiburon. Nixon was charged with being drunk in or about an automobile. He was booked in Marin County Jail and released on $105 bail for appearance Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Two Rifles Stolen

Theft of two rifles, a camper stove and lantern was reported to San Rafael police Saturday evening by Ronald G. Rice, 1103 Irwin Street, San Rafael. The items, valued collectively at $220, were taken sometime Friday from his automobile parked in front of his house.

Rider Breaks Leg As Cycle Hits Car

Michael R. Parkhurst, 25, of 1043 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, suffered a broken right leg about 7:35 p.m. yesterday when his motorcycle struck a parked car on Merrydale Road 2,500 feet south of San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia.

Parkhurst told California Highway Patrolman Richard O'Brien he was headed south and looking behind when he hit the car. He was admitted to San Rafael General Hospital where his condition today was "fair to good."

He said this figure includes revenue bond retirement and added the board has agreed to keep connection fees at $300 each as last year. Last year's budget was $14,785.

Tax rate for 1963-64 will be 36 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the same as 1962-63, Alexander added.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The chief lobbyist for the California Teachers Assn. and his wife have been granted an interlocutory divorce degree.

Honest Boys Praised, Coin Machine Fixed

Quarters just wouldn't stop falling into the change return basket of Sausalito's No. 1 parking lot traffic gate on Friday.

Brothers Pat, 12, and Rob Robertson, 9, of 583 Bridgeway pushed the coin return plunger which had been jammed by a customer's quarter, until they had about $4 in change. They then took their windfall to the police station where Sgt. David Cooper, acting chief of police, praised them for their honesty.

The machine was immediately repaired, said Cooper.

Negroes Are Refused At Rod, Gun Pier

A party of four persons which included two Negroes was refused boat launching privileges for their boat last Wednesday at the Marin Rod and Gun Club, it was disclosed yesterday.

Jon W. Ghiringhelli of 45 Hickory Road, Fairfax, said caretaker Charles Whiting told the two Negroes: "You can't come in here. We don't want colored people."

The incident began about 11 a.m. when Ghiringhelli drove onto the club's grounds with member Richard Burke of Bolinas Road, Fairfax, to launch Ghiringhelli's boat for a day of fishing.

In another car, according to Ghiringhelli, were Edward Bohanon and his brother, Cecil, of Vallejo. Bohanon and Burke are employees of Deer Park Villa, owned by Ghiringhelli's parents.

Ghiringhelli said he signed in at the check stand with Burke's card as it was his boat. As they were backing the boat onto the ramp, caretaker Whiting came out.

Ghiringhelli said after Whiting told the Negroes to get off the grounds, Burke showed his membership and explained they were his guests.

He said Whiting replied: "I'll have your card revoked, if you bring them in." The party left and launched their boat at Loch Lomond Marina in San Rafael after a heated argument.

Whiting said today that he did not know that the Negroes were with a member as they got out of a separate car. He said that after he was shown the membership card he refused launching privileges because Ghiringhelli "called me everything he could think of."

"We got to be respected too," Whiting said.

Club secretary Paul Ware said there had been a "misunderstanding." He said a letter was to be written to the persons involved explaining the situation.

Ware said the club, which has no Negro members, has no rocial restriction on membership. "We have gotten no applications from Negroes for membership. They are perfectly welcome as guests," he said.

General Store Still Open After Morning Fire

Bird and Hound General Store in Tiburon was open for business today despite the fact some of the store's clothing stock took a drenching at 12:23 a.m. when a fire broke out in a restroom above in the Dock Restaurant.

Water damage, undetermined by co-owners Kirk Bassett and Bennett Wren, was caused by automatic sprinklers which were released by the fire. The fire, Chief Frank J. Buscher said, was believed caused by a cigarette in a clothes rack in the men employees' restroom. Minor damage resulted. The Dock is at 25 Main Street and the Bird and Hound at 23 Main Street.

Family Escapes Serious Injury

A South San Francisco family of four escaped with bruises about 10:40 p.m. yesterday when their southbound car overturned on the wrong side of Highway 101 about two miles south of the Marin County northern boundary.

William J. Cameron, 43, told California haighway patrolmen D. F. Sully and Donald Dowling he entered the divider line and the car veered from right to left before crossing the Northbound lanes and plunging down an embankment, tearing through 60 feet of fence of the Joe Silvera Ranch.

Saratoga Man Cited For Unsafe Speed

Joseph Alves, 60, of Saratoga, was cited for unsafe speed for conditions after his southbound car hit the rear of a car driven by Clarence F. Andre, 60, of Napa, on Highway 101 five miles north of Novato.

California Highway Patrolman Gerald Walkup said the accident happened when Andre stopped for traffic. Andre was bruised and was to see his doctor.

Black Muslims Stage Protest At Quentin

They gathered in the prison yard to hear what prison officials labeled an "inflammatory" sermon by Jesse L. Dyes, ringleader of the demonstration.

The brief disturbance during the pre-noon recreation period was broken up without incident, reported Joseph R. O'Brien, officer of the day.

Dyes, 27, serving a one-to-10-year term for narcotics possession in Kern County, was placed in isolation. He faces a disciplinary hearing tomorrow for violating the rule that forbids unordained ministers to preach religion within the prison.

His listeners faced disciplinary hearings today for unauthorized assembly.

Associate Warden W. D. Achuff said Dyes seeks Black Muslim representation on the Inmate Council. Representation on the council is based upon work areas, not religion, he said.

There are Negroes on the council and there are free elections, Achuff said.

Triple Execution Is Again Scheduled At San Quentin

A triple execution, once delayed, has been rescheduled for Aug. 14 in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber.

Scheduled to die are Joseph Rosoto, 39; John Frank Vlahovich, 31, and Donald Glen Franklin, 34, Anaheim gang killers. They were convicted of killing an Anaheim tavern owner who was to testify against Rosoto at a burglary trial.

The new date was set by Judge Kenneth E. Morrison of Orange County Superior Court.

Rosoto and Vlahovich will be executed at 10 a.m., and Franklin at 2 p.m., Warden Fred R. Dickson announced.

The three were scheduled to die in the gas chamber on May 3. At 7 a.m. that day, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas stayed the execution pending U. S. Supreme Court action on two other cases in which the same legal question was raised as in the case of the three Anaheim killers.

The question involved legality of evidence obtained by secret recording and evidence seized without a search warrant. The Supreme Court subsequently ruled such evidence was permissible and the stays for the trio were vacated.

Complains Of Pains After Auto Hits

Enard T. Lundquist, 66, of 25 Wreden Avenue, Fairfax, complained of neck pains after his eastbound car was hit from behind on Tiburon Boulevard one-third mile east of Tiburon's Main Street at 2:40 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said Lundquist's car was hit by one driven by Frank C. Nixon, 63, of 2624 Paradise Drive, Tiburon. Nixon was charged with being drunk in or about an automobile. He was booked in Marin County Jail and released on $105 bail for appearance Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Two Rifles Stolen

Theft of two rifles, a camper stove and lantern was reported to San Rafael police Saturday evening by Ronald G. Rice, 1103 Irwin Street, San Rafael. The items, valued collectively at $220, were taken sometime Friday from his automobile parked in front of his house.

Rider Breaks Leg As Cycle Hits Car

Michael R. Parkhurst, 25, of 1043 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, suffered a broken right leg about 7:35 p.m. yesterday when his motorcycle struck a parked car on Merrydale Road 2,500 feet south of San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia.

Parkhurst told California Highway Patrolman Richard O'Brien he was headed south and looking behind when he hit the car. He was admitted to San Rafael General Hospital where his condition today was "fair to good."

Novato Trustees To Discuss Budget

Public hearing on the final 1963-64 budget will be held by the board of the Novato Unified School district board at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

The board approved a $2,031,100 preliminary budget last month.

Same Sewer Tax Rate For Almonte Homes

Almonte Sanitary District directors have adopted a 1963-64 budget of $22,009, chairman Robert A. Alexander said today.

He said this figure includes revenue bond retirement and added the board has agreed to keep connection fees at $300 each as last year. Last year's budget was $14,785.

Tax rate for 1963-64 will be 36 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the same as 1962-63, Alexander added.

Teacher Aide Divorced

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The chief lobbyist for the California Teachers Assn. and his wife have been granted an interlocutory divorce degree.

Barton won custody of their 18-year-old daughter, and Mrs. Barton won the family home in Sacramento. Barton was ordered to pay $300 a month alimony for six months, and $270 a month thereafter.

Honest Boys Praised, Coin Machine Fixed

Quarters just wouldn't stop falling into the change return basket of Sausalito's No. 1 parking lot traffic gate on Friday.

Brothers Pat, 12, and Rob Robertson, 9, of 583 Bridgeway pushed the coin return plunger which had been jammed by a customer's quarter, until they had about $4 in change. They then took their windfall to the police station where Sgt. David Cooper, acting chief of police, praised them for their honesty.

The machine was immediately repaired, said Cooper.

Vice Adm. Gerald F. Bogan, ret., 69, and the six-man crew abandoned the 104-foot motor yacht Wednesday. The U.S. submarine Razorback picked them up Thursday.

Cmdr. J. H. Hawley, in charge of the Coast Guard's office of Marine Inspection, said "It's purely a routine investigation, and will be very informal."

Mays And Giants Open Series With Houston Tonight

HOUSTON (AP) — Willie Mays, the best one-man show east of Jack Benny, limped into Houston with his supporting cast today following a standout performance in Chicago.

Even home town critics had to admire the amazing Mr. Mays Sunday as he:

—Slammed a 10th-inning homer lifting San Francisco to a 2-1 victory over the Cubs and into second place in the National League, four and one half games behind Los Angeles.

—did an arm-waving, grimacing, disbelieving dance of frustration in a rare burst of anger at being called out on an attempted steal.

In an attempt to keep the Giants simmering, Manager Alvin Dark sends Juan Marichal (17-5) against the Colt 45s' Hal Brown (4-6) tonight in the league's only contest.

Statistics indicate the value of Mays to the Giants. In the 23 games in which he has knocked 27 homers, the San Francisco record is 19-4, with Willie personally having won seven on home runs.

Thirteen of the center fielder's blasts have come in the last five weeks, and his batting average—now .282— is .328 since July 1. The hottest Giant streak has come with Willie at his hottest.

Mays' hit off Lindy McDaniel gave the Giants a 2-1 edge in their final visit to Wrigley Field this season. The other run came in the fourth when Orlando Cepeda's two-out sharp grounder to third baseman Ron Santo produced a wild throw to first, sending Orlando to second, and Ed Bailey singled him home.

Santo's 18th home run in the eighth was the lone Cub tally. The Cubs threatened in the ninth, but three San Francisco pitchers combined to disallow any runs.

It was the last out of the game that almost cost Mays his foot. Pinch-hitter Don Landrum hit a fly to left-center, Mays and McCovey each gazing into the sky while running a collision course. McCovey grabbed it, but spiked Mays slightly on the left hoof, producing a pained expression on Mays' face, but not doing any serious damage.

In the eighth, Mays had doubled and with two down tried to steal third. Many thought he had made it—including Willie. When umpire Frank Walsh called him out, it provoked the dance of outrage.

Dark protested the call too vehemently and wound up listening to the end of the game on the clubhouse radio.

An odd twist was given to the contest when a group hauled a Cuban flag onto the field in the seventh also carrying banners reading, "President Kennedy, please do not arrest any more Cuban fighters" and "Revolutionary Movement 30th of November."

Managers Dark, Alston Shouldn't Feel Too Secure In Their Jobs

CONNOLLY

That face on the barroom floor seems to bob up whenever the baseball "underground" goes into session. And right now there are said to be two faces very much in evidence.

The first is a striking resemblance to Walter Alston, L.A. Dodger skipper, who, they say, is a cinch to get the ax as boss if his club completes its second collapse in two seasons.

Easily recognizable as the second face on the floor is that of Alvin Dark, S.F. Giants' manager whose insecurity as a leader is his poor style of juggling pitchers and his complete disregard for playing percentage baseball, even in the clinches, with victory at stake.

BASEBALL, while it is a big business of itself, is also a heartless form of employment for those supposed to be the guardians of the team.

Alston's position is even worse than Dark's because he has had his club in front in stretch competition twice and while he hasn't collapsed entirely, you can get good odds he won't be in first place at the finish in 1963.

Alvin Dark, in my opinion, doesn't deserve the fate that might befall Alston. He has a collection of clown known as power house hitters who operate like elevators — they are constantly going up and continually going down.

Losing two of the last four games, keeps the Giants out of second place. It is not the fact they they gave away games to the Phils and Cubs, but rather HOW THEY did it. It may irk manager Dark a lot but if he thinks his feelings are ruffled as much as those of Horace Stoneham and other members of the Giant hierarchy, he has another guess coming.

With less than 60 more games to play, the complete story on Alston and Dark will be clearer and we sincerely hope it turns out good for both of them. But managing is a risky business. It is one of the reasons they are paid so well. They get big pay, but they gotta do big things.

THE CHICAGO Cub series which ended yesterday is one sample of heartbreaks in managing. With an 11-5 lead, Saturday, and one more inning to go, manager Dark called on everybody but the trainer to relieve. With the race so tight, and the stakes so high, you'd have thought he might have gone to one of his front line pitchers to save the game. But he didn't and lost.

More and more as the Giants play under pressure can you detect that the club is not an instinctive team, but rather a mechanical one. There's only one Willie Mays and one Harvey Kuenn, who play ball from instinct. They are not operated by remote control.

This jugling of pitchers and purposely walking batter after batter is a managerial build-up. You see it more and more, and especially when unneeded. It gives the bench brain-buster a chance to tell the fans who is running the show. But it gives me a pain in the seat of the pants.

ANYBODY who has ever played baseball knows a good hitter should be able to bunt. If he can keep his eye on the ball good enough to be a regular, what makes anyone think he can't get a piece of the ball when bunting.

The good clubs today are those who use the hit and run, the running bunt and the clubs who have players who can hit behind the baserunners.

According to "our book" on the Giants' road trip todate, they are one game behind what they should be. But starting tonight at Houston they get three more whacks at a club that has been surprisingly good against them. It can't happen this next three days. We gotta clean up on them or otherwise we'll have to wait until we meet the Phils over the weekend and they could be very pesty in their own park.

DISPUTED PLAY — Willie Mays, whose 10th inning homer won for San Francisco yesterday, loses an earlier decision in the eighth inning of the game with the Cubs when he was called out on an attempted steal of third base. Cubs third baseman Ron Santo is putting on the tag, as umpire Frank Walsh makes the decision. Manager Al Dark protested the call and was thrown out of the game. (AP Wirephoto)

Builders, Presidio To Meet In Playoff

Billings-Hutchison Builders and the Presidio of San Francisco each won tight ball games yesterday and thus forced a playoff next Sunday for the championship of the Marin Semi-pro League.

The Presidio trailed Mill Valley 3-2, with two outs and a man on first base in the ninth inning. A pop fly was hit to the infield, and it seemed that the Army boys were dead. The ball was dropped, though, and before the stunned Merchants could retire the side, the Presidio had scored four times for a 6-3 victory.

Although he wasn't the losing pitcher, Mill Valley's Fred Thruman should sue his teammates for robbery because he pitched well enough to win. In his 8⅓ innings of work, Thruman fanned 17, and would have had a victory but for the error. Before that, Tom Austin's long home run in the eighth inning appeared to be the decisive blow that would give Billings-Hutchison the title.

The Builders won 4-1 over a San Anselmo team fighting desperately to stay in the race. Had they won yesterday, the Merchants would have been in a position to tie for the title next week with a win over the Ongaro Plumbers.

A two-run triple by Jerry Scott in the sixth inning gave Bob DeRosa some working room and the lefthander shut out the Merchants until the ninth inning. Jerry Daniele was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded in the fifth to force in the first run of the game.

Ernie Demattei had two hits for the winners, while Ray McDonald, Bill Kline, Tom McGee and Mike Moran each rapped two for San Anselmo. DeRosa was tough in the clutch, though, and he was helped out in the seventh by a double play distinguished by the pivot of lefthanded second baseman Dick Spackman.

The game between the Dons of Marin and Bermuda Palms was forfeited to the Dons when Bermuda Palms could not field a full team. The Ongaro Plumbers-Novato game was postponed until Aug. 18 because the San Anselmo field was being used for the invitational tournament.

Marin Pony Leaguers Advance In Tourney

The Southern Marin Pony League team, losers in their first tournament game last week, fought their way into the final playoff tonight with Petaluma by winning two games yesterday, 10-3 over Northern Marin and 5-4 over Petaluma.

After bombing the Northern Marin boys in the opener, behind Greg Tellis' fine pitching, Southern Marin fell behind Petaluma 4-1 and appeared to be ousted from the tournament. They rallied for four runs in the fifth inning, however, and relief hurler Brian King pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh and last inning to preserve the victory.

The winning run in the second game scored an a strikeout pitch which was missed by the Petaluma catcher. He threw the batter out at first, but the runner on third came in to score.

Ron Gilliam started for Southern Marin in this game, but had to leave after the sixth inning because he had pitched the 16 innings allowed in the tournament for one hurler. King gave up a single to the first Petaluma hitter in the seventh, who promptly stole second. A sacrifice moved him to third, and Manager Hal Braden ordered King to walk the next two batters to set up a force out at any base.

This was, to put it midly, a risky bit of strategy, for it also put the winning run in scoring position. It paid off, however, when King struck out the next batter and got the third out on a ground ball back to him.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Podres Shuts Out Colts; Mets' Craig Loses No. 20

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching in Houston's sweltering heat last night, Podres took a few whiffs as he set the Colts down until Johnny Temple led off the ninth inning with a sharp single.

Podres then hit Bob Aspromonte with a pitch and was relieved by Larry Sherry, who preserved the 4-0 triumph.

There was no help for Roger Craig of the New York Mets as he trudged slowly off the mound after a 2-1 loss at Milwaukee.

The defeat, Craig's 18th in succession, matched the mark established by Cliff Curtis of Boston in 1910, and made him the 13th pitcher in major league history to lose 20 games two years in a row.

Now 2-20 following last season's 10-24 record, Craig let the Braves score the winning run on a wild pickoff attempt in the sixth inning and became the first two-time 20-game loser since Paul Derringer with St. Louis and Cincinnati in 1933-34.

Willie Mays hit his 27th homer in the 10th inning for a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs that moved San Francisco into second place. Philadelphia dropped St. Louis to third, beating the Cardinals 7-3 and 5-2. Cincinnati swept Pittsburgh 5-2 and 4-1

The American League leading New York Yankees lost to Baltimore 7-2 but took the nightcap 11-10 in 10 innings, the Chicago White Sox belted the Los Angeles Angels 8-1, Kansas City defeated Minnesota 6-2, Washington downed Boston 7-5 and Cleveland downed Boston 7-5 and Cleveland tripped Detroit 3-2 after a 2-0 loss.

Podres, who brought his record to 11-7 in his 275th major league start, said he was tired after running out a double in the seventh inning and took some oxygen.

The Dodgers scored in the sixth against Ken Johnson, 6-15, on Tommy Davis' run-producing single, and Podres' double drove in two of three runs in the seventh.

Craig, only two losses away from the major league record for consecutive defeats set by Philadelphia's John Nabros in 1916, was tagged for a homer by Eddie Mathews in the first. In the sixth, Lou Klimchock singled, raced to third on Gene Oliver's single and scored on Craig's errant pickoff attempt. The victory went to Dan Schneider, his first in the majors.

Winning pitcher Ray Culp, 11-9, rapped in two runs with a pair of singles and Johnny Callison and Clay Dalrymple homered in the Phillies' opening game triumph. The Cardinals led the nightcap 2-1 going into into the eighth when the Phillies erupted for three runs.

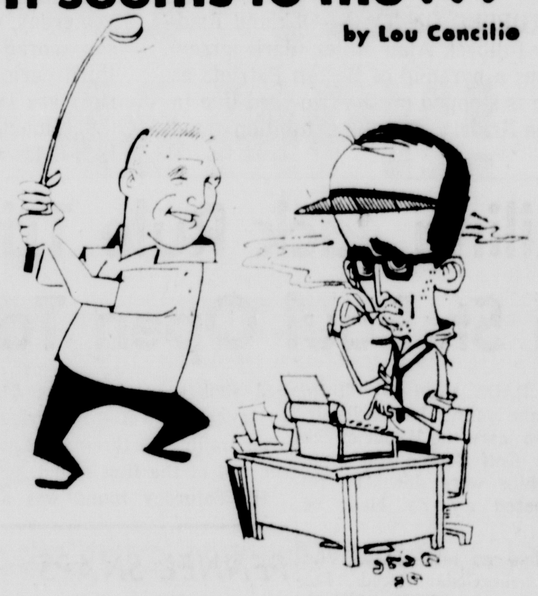

Frank Robinson collected three runs batted in for the Reds with a pair of doubles in the opener, backing the pitching of Bob Purkey, 5-7. Tommy Harper took over in the second game, blasting a two-run homer, a double and a single while Joe Nuxhall, 9-5, checked the Phillies on five hits.

The End—or—the Beginning of an Era

I feel just like the guy who is tooling along a smooth, paved highway in his Ford V 8 (what else?), and suddenly comes up to the end of the paving. He has to make an immediate adjustment—either continue on the dirt road, or find an alternate highway. It may take a little while to locate another highway, but, quite obviously, the rest of the trip will be a lot smoother if he does.

This far-out analogy is akin to the predicament in which I now find myself. It's been relatively smooth sailing being the father of an exuberant and admittedly unpredictable daughter these many years—as long as she was a school girl and her bubbling babbling centered around the next assignment or the last prom. Even the sloppy-joe Bach sweater she favored far too long was tolerable until it was stretched grotesquely into a too-short wooly nightgown.

A father can still humor himself into ignoring his receding hairline and grimace privately in his shaving mirror at the inevitable inroads of demon time. That is, he can still do these things as long as his daughter skips along in flats and bermuda shorts, engrossed with problems no more pondrous than what movie to see Saturday night or how awful Shirley looked in that weird hairdo.

Now, school is over. The tassle from her graduation cap is safely tucked away with mementos of other highlights along the way. Her treasured Year Book with all the autographs and clever anecdotes seems to have exhausted further scrutinizing and lies on the shelf among the paper backs. The flats and the bermudas are no longer at the foot of the bed for automatic donning.

Now, my little girl is sleek in her heels and tailored dresses, with hairdo just so, as she dashes off to her job at the bank. Now, she's a young woman of industry, with responsibilities and obligations. And, woe be onto me if I should deign to give her a fatherly pinch. That was alright yesterday, but today it's juvenile and unthinkable.

I am a stubborn man. Even with a daughter of 18—a vertiable woman of the world—I will not buy a rocking chair. When I was a kid, a man my age may have been a doddering, pitiful thing. But, perspectives change, thank goodness, and I have quite a few miles left.

I might also suggest to any of my fellow workers at Ames Ford who may think ole Lou's reflexes have become dull, they'd better put their money on a surer bet. I may have come up to the end of that paved highway suddenly, but I've already found the alternate highway, and it's full throttle ahead!

Mays And Giants Open Series With Houston Tonight

HOUSTON (AP) — Willie Mays, the best one-man show east of Jack Benny, limped into Houston with his supporting cast today following a standout performance in Chicago.

Even home town critics had to admire the amazing Mr. Mays Sunday as he:

—Slammed a 10th-inning homer lifting San Francisco to a 2-1 victory over the Cubs and into second place in the National League, four and one half games behind Los Angeles.

—did an arm-waving, grimacing, disbelieving dance of frustration in a rare burst of anger at being called out on an attempted steal.

In an attempt to keep the Giants simmering, Manager Alvin Dark sends Juan Marichal (17-5) against the Colt 45s' Hal Brown (4-6) tonight in the league's only contest.

Statistics indicate the value of Mays to the Giants. In the 23 games in which he has knocked 27 homers, the San Francisco record is 19-4, with Willie personally having won seven on home runs.

Thirteen of the center fielder's blasts have come in the last five weeks, and his batting average—now .282— is .328 since July 1. The hottest Giant streak has come with Willie at his hottest.

Mays' hit off Lindy McDaniel gave the Giants a 2-1 edge in their final visit to Wrigley Field this season. The other run came in the fourth when Orlando Cepeda's two-out sharp grounder to third baseman Ron Santo produced a wild throw to first, sending Orlando to second, and Ed Bailey singled him home.

Santo's 18th home run in the eighth was the lone Cub tally. The Cubs threatened in the ninth, but three San Francisco pitchers combined to disallow any runs.

It was the last out of the game that almost cost Mays his foot. Pinch-hitter Don Landrum hit a fly to left-center, Mays and McCovey each gazing into the sky while running a collision course. McCovey grabbed it, but spiked Mays slightly on the left hoof, producing a pained expression on Mays' face, but not doing any serious damage.

In the eighth, Mays had doubled and with two down tried to steal third. Many thought he had made it—including Willie. When umpire Frank Walsh called him out, it provoked the dance of outrage.

Dark protested the call too vehemently and wound up listening to the end of the game on the clubhouse radio.

An odd twist was given to the contest when a group hauled a Cuban flag onto the field in the seventh also carrying banners reading, "President Kennedy, please do not arrest any more Cuban fighters" and "Revolutionary Movement 30th of November."

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

CONNOLLY

That face on the barroom floor seems to bob up whenever the baseball "underground" goes into session. And right now there are said to be two faces very much in evidence.

The first is a striking resemblance to Walter Alston, L.A. Dodger skipper, who, they say, is a cinch to get the ax as boss if his club completes its second collapse in two seasons.

Easily recognizable as the second face on the floor is that of Alvin Dark, S.F. Giants' manager whose insecurity as a leader is his poor style of juggling pitchers and his complete disregard for playing percentage baseball, even in the clinches, with victory at stake.

BASEBALL, while it is a big business of itself, is also a heartless form of employment for those supposed to be the guardians of the team.

Alston's position is even worse than Dark's because he has had his club in front in stretch competition twice and while he hasn't collapsed entirely, you can get good odds he won't be in first place at the finish in 1963.

Alvin Dark, in my opinion, doesn't deserve the fate that might befall Alston. He has a collection of clown known as power house hitters who operate like elevators — they are constantly going up and continually going down.

Losing two of the last four games, keeps the Giants out of second place. It is not the fact they they gave away games to the Phils and Cubs, but rather HOW THEY did it. It may irk manager Dark a lot but if he thinks his feelings are ruffled as much as those of Horace Stoneham and other members of the Giant hierarchy, he has another guess coming.

With less than 60 more games to play, the complete story on Alston and Dark will be clearer and we sincerely hope it turns out good for both of them. But managing is a risky business. It is one of the reasons they are paid so well. They get big pay, but they gotta do big things.

THE CHICAGO Cub series which ended yesterday is one sample of heartbreaks in managing. With an 11-5 lead, Saturday, and one more inning to go, manager Dark called on everybody but the trainer to relieve. With the race so tight, and the stakes so high, you'd have thought he might have gone to one of his front line pitchers to save the game. But he didn't and lost.

More and more as the Giants play under pressure can you detect that the club is not an instinctive team, but rather a mechanical one. There's only one Willie Mays and one Harvey Kuenn, who play ball from instinct. They are not operated by remote control.

This jugling of pitchers and purposely walking batter after batter is a managerial build-up. You see it more and more, and especially when unneeded. It gives the bench brain-buster a chance to tell the fans who is running the show. But it gives me a pain in the seat of the pants.

ANYBODY who has ever played baseball knows a good hitter should be able to bunt. If he can keep his eye on the ball good enough to be a regular, what makes anyone think he can't get a piece of the ball when bunting.

The good clubs today are those who use the hit and run, the running bunt and the clubs who have players who can hit behind the baserunners.

According to "our book" on the Giants' road trip todate, they are one game behind what they should be. But starting tonight at Houston they get three more whacks at a club that has been surprisingly good against them. It can't happen this next three days. We gotta clean up on them or otherwise we'll have to wait until we meet the Phils over the weekend and they could be very pesty in their own park.

DISPUTED PLAY — Willie Mays, whose 10th inning homer won for San Francisco yesterday, loses an earlier decision in the eighth inning of the game with the Cubs when he was called out on an attempted steal of third base. Cubs third baseman Ron Santo is putting on the tag, as umpire Frank Walsh makes the decision. Manager Al Dark protested the call and was thrown out of the game. (AP Wirephoto)

Builders, Presidio To Meet In Playoff

Billings-Hutchison Builders and the Presidio of San Francisco each won tight ball games yesterday and thus forced a playoff next Sunday for the championship of the Marin Semi-pro League.

The Presidio trailed Mill Valley 3-2, with two outs and a man on first base in the ninth inning. A pop fly was hit to the infield, and it seemed that the Army boys were dead. The ball was dropped, though, and before the stunned Merchants could retire the side, the Presidio had scored four times for a 6-3 victory.

Although he wasn't the losing pitcher, Mill Valley's Fred Thruman should sue his teammates for robbery because he pitched well enough to win. In his 8⅓ innings of work, Thruman fanned 17, and would have had a victory but for the error. Before that, Tom Austin's long home run in the eighth inning appeared to be the decisive blow that would give Billings-Hutchison the title.

The Builders won 4-1 over a San Anselmo team fighting desperately to stay in the race. Had they won yesterday, the Merchants would have been in a position to tie for the title next week with a win over the Ongaro Plumbers.

A two-run triple by Jerry Scott in the sixth inning gave Bob DeRosa some working room and the lefthander shut out the Merchants until the ninth inning. Jerry Daniele was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded in the fifth to force in the first run of the game.

Ernie Dematteis had two hits for the winners, while Ray McDonald, Bill Kline, Tom McGee and Mike Moran each rapped two for San Anselmo. DeRosa was tough in the clutch, though, and he was helped out in the seventh by a double play distinguished by the pivot of lefthanded second baseman Dick Spackman.

The game between the Dons of Marin and Bermuda Palms was forfeited to the Dons when Bermuda Palms could not field a full team. The Ongaro Plumbers-Novato game was postponed until Aug. 18 because the San Anselmo field was being used for the invitational tournament.

Marin Pony Leaguers Advance In Tourney

The Southern Marin Pony League team, losers in their first tournament game last week, fought their way into the final playoff tonight with Petaluma by winning two games yesterday, 10-3 over Northern Marin and 5-4 over Petaluma.

After bombing the Northern Marin boys in the opener, behind Greg Tellis' fine pitching, Southern Marin fell behind Petaluma 4-1 and appeared to be ousted from the tournament. They rallied for four runs in the fifth inning, however, and relief hurler Brian King pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh and last inning to preserve the victory.

The winning run in the second game scored an a strikeout pitch which was missed by the Petaluma catcher. He threw the batter out at first, but the runner on third came in to score.

Ron Gilliam started for Southern Marin in this game, but had to leave after the sixth inning because he had pitched the 16 innings allowed in the tournament for one hurler. King gave up a single to the first Petaluma hitter in the seventh, who promptly stole second. A sacrifice moved him to third, and Manager Hal Braden ordered King to walk the next two batters to set up a force out at any base.

This was, to put it midly, a risky bit of strategy, for it also put the winning run in scoring position. It paid off, however, when King struck out the next batter and got the third out on a ground ball back to him.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Podres Shuts Out Colts; Mets' Craig Loses No. 20

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching in Houston's sweltering heat last night, Podres took a few whiffs as he set the Colts down until Johnny Temple led off the ninth inning with a sharp single.

Podres then hit Bob Aspromonte with a pitch and was relieved by Larry Sherry, who preserved the 4-0 triumph.

There was no help for Roger Craig of the New York Mets as he trudged slowly off the mound after a 2-1 loss at Milwaukee.

The defeat, Craig's 13th in succession, matched the mark established by Cliff Curtis of Boston in 1910, and made him the 13th pitcher in major league history to lose 20 games two years in a row.

Now 2-20 following last season's 10-24 record, Craig let the Braves score the winning run on a wild pickoff attempt in the sixth inning and became the first two-time 20-game loser since Paul Derringer with St. Louis and Cincinnati in 1933-34.

Willie Mays hit his 27th homer in the 10th inning for a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs that moved San Francisco into second place. Philadelphia dropped St. Louis to third, beating the Cardinals 7-3 and 5-2. Cincinnati swept Pittsburgh 5-2 and 4-1

The American League leading New York Yankees lost to Baltimore 7-2 but took the nightcap 11-10 in 10 innings, the Chicago White Sox belted the Los Angeles Angels 8-1, Kansas City defeated Minnesota 6-2, Washington downed Boston 7-5 and Cleveland downed Boston 7-5 and Cleveland tripped Detroit 3-2 after a 2-0 loss.

Podres, who brought his record to 11-7 in his 275th major league start, said he was tired after running out a double in the seventh inning and took some oxygen.

The Dodgers scored in the sixth against Ken Johnson, 6-15, on Tommy Davis' run-producing single, and Podres' double drove in two of three runs in the seventh.

Craig, only two losses away from the major league record for consecutive defeats set by Philadelphia's John Nabros in 1916, was tagged for a homer by Eddie Mathews in the first. In the sixth, Lou Klimchock singled, raced to third on Gene Oliver's single and scored on Craig's errant pickoff attempt. The victory went to Dan Schneider, his first in the majors.

Winning pitcher Ray Culp, 11-9, rapped in two runs with a pair of singles and Johnny Callison and Clay Dalrymple homered in the Phillies' opening game triumph. The Cardinals led the nightcap 2-1 going into into the eighth when the Phillies erupted for three runs.

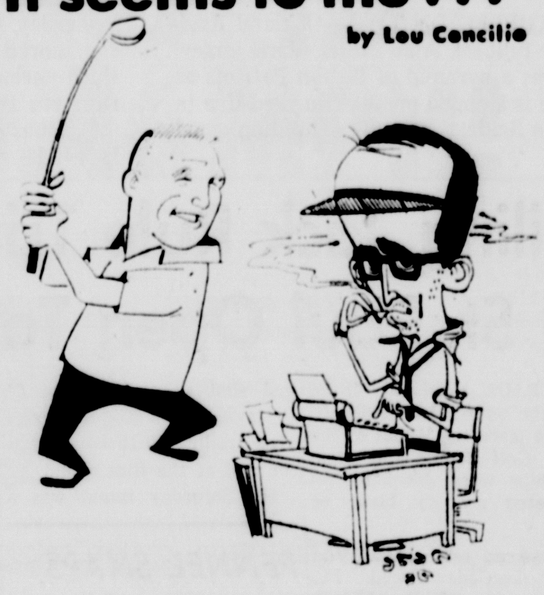

Frank Robinson collected three runs batted in for the Reds with a pair of doubles in the opener, backing the pitching of Bob Purkey, 5-7. Tommy Harper took over in the second game, blasting a two-run homer, a double and a single while Joe Nuxhall, 9-5, checked the Phillies on five hits.

Raiders Win Opener Over Boston

STOPPED ON TWO—Oakland Raider fullback Alan Miller (dark jersey) tops a pyramid of Boston Patriots as he is stopped on the two-yard line in the Raiders' opening exhibition game yesterday. Quarterback Cotton Davidson scored on the next play in the third period action. Identifiable Patriots are Dick Klein (62), Bob Dee (89), Houston Antwine (65) and Ron Hall (23). (AP Wirephoto)

OAKLAND (UPI) — The 1963 Oakland Raiders were on a one-game winning streak today, but coach Al Davis warned all who would listen that his club still needs help—and plenty of it.

The Raiders knocked over the Boston Patriots, 24-17, before 9,721 paying fans and about 5,000 others at Frank Youell Field yesterday.

"I'm surprised with the showing our boys made," said Davis after the victory. "And I'm happy with the win.

"But we have a long ways to go. We need a lot of help. We have some good players, but we need more."

This is the Raiders' fourth year in the American Football League and Davis is the first to admit that his club probably won't be a contender—unless somebody trades him some talent. The team lost 19 games in a row in 1961-62 going into the final battle, when it upset Boston.

The help probably won't be needed at quarterback, where Cotton Davidson put on a fine performance. He completed 16 out of 32 attempts for 21 yards and one touchdown. Tommy Flores, who will share the signal-calling duties, completed four out of six during the short time he was in the game, good for 83 yards.

But he lost a contact lense after a pass interception, and he never got back into the battle.

And there'll be no help needed at one end spot, where Art Powell, who played out his option with the New York Titans last year so that he could join the Raiders, caught nine tosses for 123 yards and one touchdown.

Another strong spot is at middle linebacker, where Archie Matsos, a five-year veteran, was a ball of fire. He rammed through the porous Patriot offensive line time and again to throw ball carriers for a loss. He batted down passes. And he intercepted one and returned it 23 yards to the Boston 17.

"I don't know if it was the best game I ever played," grinned Matsos after the game. "But I liked it."

Before the game, coach Davis had been worried about his defensive line. But it played the Pats off their feet during the first half, when the Raiders built up a 7-0 lead on Davidson's 24-yard touchdown pass to Powell.

Boston tied it up on a 23-yard aerial from Tommy Yewcic to end Art Graham early in the third. The Raiders went ahead on Durward Pennington's 46-yard field goal, but the Patriots came right back on Gene Cappellitti's 16-yard field goal.

A passing attack featuring Davidson and Bo Roberson carried the ball 71 yards on the next drive, with Davidson sneaking over from the one to give Oakland a 17-10 lead after three quarters.

Boston tied it again on a 57-yard pass play featuring Yewcic and Cappelletti, but Davidson passed to Powell on the one to set up the winning touchdown after Matsos' interception mid-way in the last quarter. The score came on a one-yard dive by fullback Charley Rieves.

"I would say they were further along in their training than we were," said Boston coach Mike Holovak after the game.

THIS IS FUN? THAT'S WHAT SIGN SAYS

Tiny Lund suddenly found his part in the 400 stock car race at the Nashville Fairground Speedway ended yesterday when his 1963 Ford (number 32) ripped through a wall. Dave Pearson and his 1963 Dodge ploughed into Dund's rear, and Rex White also was forced out of the race by the crash. Note the remainder of the advertisement that was on the fence before Lund's car went through it.

Ailing Jack Rule Triumphs In St. Paul Open Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—It did not take young Jack Rule Jr. long to learn the layout of the Keller Golf Course and when the chips were down he remembered every blade of grass.

"I had no feel at all," the 24-year-old Cedar Rapids, Ia., resident said. "I played from memory."

There was some doubt whether Rule would have a chance to play the final round of the $35,000 St. Paul Open yesterday and notch his first professional tour victory. He had shot a record-setting 61 Friday to take a six-stroke edge after trailing by three shots at the end of the first round.

His Saturday round was a fine 65 and veteran St. Paul Open observers were looking for him to break Mike Souchak's tourney record of 263 for 72 holes.

But Saturday night, while having dinner at a local restaurant, Rule suddenly suffered extreme pain in his kidney area. He was taken to a hospital where his ailment was diagnosed as kidney stones.

He showed up yesterday just an hour before tee-time to defend his seven stroke lead in the final round and shot a one-over-par 73 for a 266 total.

"I felt very weak," Rule said after pocketing the $5,300 first prize money. "Even as far as 17 I still felt I might not finish."

Fred Hawkins, who trailed Rule by seven strokes going into the final round, fired a 71 to finish second at 271. Dave Hill, Jackson, Mich., and Bruce Crampton, Sydney, Australia, were at 273 and George Bayer, Pasadena, at 274.

Rule didn't have much time to relish his victory. He was flown immediately after the tournament finished to a Waterloo, Ia., hospital where he will be treated.

PENNEL SNAPS POLE VAULT MARK: 16-10¼

LONDON (AP) — John Pennel of Miami, Fla., bettered his own world pole vault record today with a leap of 16 feet, 10¼ inches in the U. S.-Great Britain track and field meet.

It was the second world mark within minutes on the closing program of the two-day competition at White City Stadium.

Shortly before Pennel went over the bar, beating his own mark of 16 feet, 8¾ inches, a team of British girls shattered the world mark in the 440-yard relay.

They were timed in 45.2 seconds.

It was the third time in less than a month that Pennel had boosted the world pole vault mark.

The British women's relay team knocked a tenth of a second off the mark set by an English quartet at Cardiff in July, 1958.

Funeral Services To Be Held For Harold Berliner

Funeral services will be held tomorrow in San Francisco for Harold Berliner, long-time national and international amateur sports leader who died Saturday after a long illness. He was 63.

Berliner was chairman of the California Olympic Commission in 1959 and played a large part in bringing the Winter Olympics to Squaw Valley in 1960.

He also had served as the U.S. delegate to the International Amateur Athletic Federation, was a former president of the Pacific Assn. of the AAU and a member of the U.S. Olympic Track and Field Committee.

Berliner was survived by his widow; a son, Harold Jr., an attorney in Nevada county; and two daughters, Janet Berliner and Mrs. Joan Stillman, both of San Francisco.

Chargers Down Kansas City, 26-14

SAN DIEGO (AP)—"You just can't go against good defenses week after week with a weekend quarterback and a rookie," says San Diego Chargers coach Sid Gillman.

But that's what Gillman can look forward to for the next three weeks, despite the Chargers' 26-14 win Saturday over the Kansas City Chiefs.

In his team's first pre-season American Football League game Saturday night, Gillman temporarily lost the services of veteran quarterback Tobin Rote.

Rote, expected to lead the Chargers back on the winning trail after a dismal 1962 season, was hurt in the opening minutes when he was thrown for a loss while trying to pass.

Doctors said Rote suffered a torn hip and a bruised breast bone. They ordered him out of action for the next three weeks.

Sophomore quarterback John Hadl came off the bench, completing 15 of 23 passes—two for touchdowns.

But Hadl is still in the Air Force and is available to the Chargers only on weekend passes until his Oct. 11 discharge.

The other quarterback is Don Breau, a rookie from McNeese State, Lake Charles, La., who didn't play Saturday.

Raiders Win Opener Over Boston

STOPPED ON TWO—Oakland Raider fullback Alan Miller (dark jersey) tops a pyramid of Boston Patriots as he is stopped on the two-yard line in the Raiders' opening exhibition game yesterday. Quarterback Cotton Davidson scored on the next play in the third period action. Identifiable Patriots are Dick Klein (62), Bob Dee (89), Houston Antwine (65) and Ron Hall (23). (AP Wirephoto)

OAKLAND (UPI) — The 1963 Oakland Raiders were on a one-game winning streak today, but coach Al Davis warned all who would listen that his club still needs help—and plenty of it.

The Raiders knocked over the Boston Patriots, 24-17, before 9,721 paying fans and about 5,000 others at Frank Youell Field yesterday.

"I'm surprised with the showing our boys made," said Davis after the victory. "And I'm happy with the win.

"But we have a long ways to go. We need a lot of help. We have some good players, but we need more."

This is the Raiders' fourth year in the American Football League and Davis is the first to admit that his club probably won't be a contender—unless somebody trades him some talent. The team lost 19 games in a row in 1961-62 going into the final battle, when it upset Boston.

The help probably won't be needed at quarterback, where Cotton Davidson put on a fine performance. He completed 16 out of 32 attempts for 21 yards and one touchdown. Tommy Flores, who will share the signal-calling duties, completed four out of six during the short time he was in the game, good for 83 yards.

But he lost a contact lense after a pass interception, and he never got back into the battle.

And there'll be no help needed at one end spot, where Art Powell, who played out his option with the New York Titans last year so that he could join the Raiders, caught nine tosses for 123 yards and one touchdown.

Another strong spot is at middle linebacker, where Archie Matsos, a five-year veteran, was a ball of fire. He rammed through the porous Patriot offensive line time and again to throw ball carriers for a loss. He batted down passes. And he intercepted one and returned it 23 yards to the Boston 17.

"I don't know if it was the best game I ever played," grinned Matsos after the game. "But I liked it."

Before the game, coach Davis had been worried about his defensive line. But it played the Pats off their feet during the first half, when the Raiders built up a 7-0 lead on Davidson's 24-yard touchdown pass to Powell.

Boston tied it up on a 23-yard aerial from Tommy Yewcic to end Art Graham early in the third. The Raiders went ahead on Durward Pennington's 46-yard field goal, but the Patriots came right back on Gene Cappellitti's 16-yard field goal.

A passing attack featuring Davidson and Bo Roberson carried the ball 71 yards on the next drive, with Davidson sneaking over from the one to give Oakland a 17-10 lead after three quarters.

Boston tied it again on a 57-yard pass play featuring Yewcic and Cappelletti, but Davidson passed to Powell on the one to set up the winning touchdown after Matsos' interception mid-way in the last quarter. The score came on a one-yard dive by fullback Charley Rieves.

"I would say they were further along in their training than we were," said Boston coach Mike Holovak after the game.

THIS IS FUN? THAT'S WHAT SIGN SAYS

Tiny Lund suddenly found his part in the 400 stock car race at the Nashville Fairground Speedway ended yesterday when his 1963 Ford (number 32) ripped through a wall. Dave Pearson and his 1963 Dodge ploughed into Dund's rear, and Rex White also was forced out of the race by the crash. Note the remainder of the advertisement that was on the fence before Lund's car went through it.

Ailing Jack Rule Triumphs In St. Paul Open Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—It did not take young Jack Rule Jr. long to learn the layout of the Keller Golf Course and when the chips were down he remembered every blade of grass.

"I had no feel at all," the 24-year-old Cedar Rapids, Ia., resident said. "I played from memory."

There was some doubt whether Rule would have a chance to play the final round of the $35,000 St. Paul Open yesterday and notch his first professional tour victory. He had shot a record-setting 61 Friday to take a six-stroke edge after trailing by three shots at the end of the first round.

His Saturday round was a fine 65 and veteran St. Paul Open observers were looking for him to break Mike Souchak's tourney record of 263 for 72 holes.

But Saturday night, while having dinner at a local restaurant, Rule suddenly suffered extreme pain in his kidney area. He was taken to a hospital where his ailment was diagnosed as kidney stones.

He showed up yesterday just an hour before tee-time to defend his seven stroke lead in the final round and shot a one-over-par 73 for a 266 total.

"I felt very weak," Rule said after pocketing the $5,300 first prize money. "Even as far as 17 I still felt I might not finish."

Fred Hawkins, who trailed Rule by seven strokes going into the final round, fired a 71 to finish second at 271. Dave Hill, Jackson, Mich., and Bruce Crampton, Sydney, Australia, were at 273 and George Bayer, Pasadena, at 274.

Rule didn't have much time to relish his victory. He was flown immediately after the tournament finished to a Waterloo, Ia., hospital where he will be treated.

Northerners Whip Local Yachtsmen

By ALFRED MATSON

The pick of the top skippers in the IC Fleet were not good enough when they crossed swords with a like group of visiting firemen from Seattle over the weekend.

It was a team race with four skippers and crews from each area competing in IC Class boats in a three-race series. That is, it was scheduled for three races if need be but those northerners were out for blood and they walloped our local prides so handily in the two races on Saturday that yesterday's final contest was purely for fun.

In the first race on Saturday it was a tight battle between visiting Bob Ivie and Larry Grinnell of the defending team with Ivie finishing on top by a scant 10 seconds.

But the nightcap was the clincher. Sonny Vynn and Charley Ross of the Seattle team finished one-two with Jake Wosser, the home towner, salvaging third place.

And that was it. The Bay team sailing in their home waters in boats of their class and under average conditions were "hung on their own petard" by the bogeymen from the north who race six meters on their own waters.

In yesterday's consolation race a smidgeon of local pride was regained with Vosser winning handily and Larry Grinnell following through for second place.

It was a long and tedious crawl back up the coast yesterday for the participants in the cruising club's two-day Half Moon Bay Race. The usual Westerly failed to make much of a showing, never over five to six knots.

Jon Konigshofer, SFYC, proved his Wild Wind to be the best drifter by winning the homeward leg on corrected time followed by Hank Easom's Basher Class Serenade. In the down leg on Saturday, another L-36, Chan Chrisman's Storm was first with Wild Wind second. At this point, with but one race left in the Danforth Memorial Trophy series, it would appear as though Storm has amassed nearly enough points to win the Handsome Cup.

Results were:

Corrected times — Wild Wind, 4:46.57; Serenade, 5:00.49; Peaceable, 5:04.46; Rendezvous, 5:06.23; Storm, 5:13.20; Radiant, 5:17.00; Santa Lucia, 5:22.24; Baby Grand II, 5:28.01; Minta, 5:31.00; Chrysopyle, 5:42.20; Scotch Mist, 5:42.35; Altura II, 5:54.23; Santana, 5:57.55; Figaro, 6:00.46; Aquarius, 6:00.46; Zafir, 6:22.19; Javelin, 6:33.58; Hetaera, 7:35.48; Sonata and Kandu, DNF.

Liston Aide Has A New Tax Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jack Nilon, advisor to heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, said today he has come up with a new plan to ease Liston's tax burden for a proposed title fight with Cassius Clay here Sept. 30.

Liston, here to meet with Nilon, was quoted in Sunnyland, Ill. yesterday that he doubted he would meet Clay "unless we can figure some way to get the government to let us keep some of the money."

"I think we can," said Nilon. "I'll do the figuring. I still think it (the fight) will be held because I am an eternal optimist."

Nilon would not disclose his plan until he discussed it with accountants and Liston.

Nilon said he expected the fight, which would be held in Philadelphia Stadium, would bring in $7 million.

Liston and Bob and Jim Nilon, brothers of Jack, had formed Intercontential Promotions Inc., to promote the fight. This would enable the champion to share the corporate profits, which would be taxable at a much lower rate than his purse and could be invested as security. Liston owns 47½ per cent of Intercontinental and Bob and Jim Nilon 47½ per cent. Jack Nilon does not hold any stock.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission ruled last Wednesday, however, that Liston in effect could not fight under his own promotion.

Last Thursday, Bob and Jim Nilon came up with an alternate plan approved by Al Klein, a commission member. Under this plan, they agreed to promote the fight in a partnership and give Liston a larger share of the receipts to help compensate for his withdrawal in the promotion.

Palmer, Nicklaus Are Picks For Canada Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, locked in a tense struggle for golf's No. 1 position, will put aside their rivalry to represent the United States in the annual Canada Cup matches.

Palmer, golf's leading money winner, and Nicklaus, the PGA and Masters champion, were overwhelming favorites to form the U.S. two-man team that will face tandems from 33 other nations in 72-hole stroke play near Paris Oct. 24-27.

The four-day tournament for both team and individual honors will be played over the Saint-Nom-laBreteche course, 10 miles from Paris.

The selection to the Canada Cup team was the third for Palmer, who teamed with Sam Snead in winning at Dublin, Ireland, in 1960 and at Buenos Aires last year. It's the first such election for the 23-year-old Nicklaus.

$10 MILLION LIBEL SUIT

Butts-Post Trial Begins

ATLANTA (AP)—The $10-million libel suit brought by former University of Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts against the Saturday Evening Post was to begin today in U.S. District Court.

The suit was filed against the Curtis Publishing Co., publishers of the Post, because of an article March 23 which said Butts and Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant conspired to rig last year's game between their schools.

Alabama, ranked No. 1 nationally at the end of the 1961 season, won the 1962 season-opener from Georgia 35-0. The Post article said Alabama was a 14 to 17 point favorite in the betting lines.

Butts and Bryant, who also filed a $10 million libel suit against the Post, denied all the charges.

Butts quit coaching at Georgia following the 1960 season, but remained as athletic director until his resignation one month before publication of the article. He said he was quitting for business and personal reasons.

Butts claims the article ruined his coaching career—22 years at Georgia. He also contends that the Post falsely charged him with "rigging and fixing the Alabama-Georgia football game with Coach Bryant as a gambling device in order to restore his financial resources."

The Post denies the assertions.

The Post said the article was based on a telephone conversation overheard by an Atlanta businessman, George P. Burnett. He said he was accidentally cut into a long distance call between Butts and Bryant about a week prior to the Sept. 22 game.

Burnett said he heard Butts give secret information on the Georgia team to the Alabama coach.

Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook investigated the Post charges and concluded that Butts had given Bryant vital information on the Georgia football team. However, he said he could find no evidence that either Butts or Bryant was involved in gambling.

Concord's Little Leaguers Nip West Sacramento, 3-2

The Concord American League tipped West Sacramento to 3-2 on a home run in the sixth and last inning Saturday to win the Little League section two tournament at Novato and advance to the divisional tourney in Roseville Thursday.

Bobby Mejias slugged the decisive blow Saturday to break up a fine pitching duel between Concord's Bill Woodhead and West Sacramento's Ken Hensley. Both had pitched scoreless ball except for the second inning, which the Sacramento boys had opened with two runs only to see Concord match this in their half of the frame.

Concord's competition in the divisional playoffs include Union City and the Santa Cruz National League, with the fourth team yet to be announced. The winner at Roseville will advance to the western regionals at Sunnyvale. After that the trail leads to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

Northerners Whip Local Yachtsmen

By ALFRED MATSON

The pick of the top skippers in the IC Fleet were not good enough when they crossed swords with a like group of visiting firemen from Seattle over the weekend.

It was a team race with four skippers and crews from each area competing in IC Class boats in a three-race series. That is, it was scheduled for three races if need be but those northerners were out for blood and they walloped our local prides so handily in the two races on Saturday that yesterday's final contest was purely for fun.

In the first race on Saturday it was a tight battle between visiting Bob Ivie and Larry Grinnell of the defending team with Ivie finishing on top by a scant 10 seconds.

But the nightcap was the clincher. Sonny Vynn and Charley Ross of the Seattle team finished one-two with Jake Wosser, the home towner, salvaging third place.

And that was it. The Bay team sailing in their home waters in boats of their class and under average conditions were "hung on their own petard" by the bogeymen from the north who race six meters on their own waters.

It was a long and tedious crawl back up the coast yesterday for the participants in the cruising club's two-day Half Moon Bay Race. The usual Westerly failed to make much of a showing, never over five to six knots.

Jon Konigshofer, SFYC, proved his Wild Wind to be the best drifter by winning the homeward leg on corrected time followed by Hank Easom's Basher Class Serenade. In the down leg on Saturday, another L-36, Chan Chrisman's Storm was first with Wild Wind second. At this point, with but one race left in the Danforth Memorial Trophy series, it would appear as though Storm has amassed nearly enough points to win the Handsome Cup.

Results were:

Corrected times — Wild Wind, 4:46.57; Serenade, 5:00.49; Peaceable, 5:04.46; Rendezvous, 5:06.23; Storm, 5:13.20; Radiant, 5:17.00; Santa Lucia, 5:22.24; Baby Grand II, 5:28.01; Minta, 5:31.00; Chrysopyle, 5:42.20; Scotch Mist, 5:42.35; Altura II, 5:54.23; Santana, 5:57.55; Figaro, 6:00.46; Aquarius, 6:00.46; Zafir, 6:22.19; Javelin, 6:33.58; Hetaera, 7:35.48; Sonata and Kandu, DNF.

Liston Aide Has A New Tax Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jack Nilon, advisor to heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, said today he has come up with a new plan to ease Liston's tax burden for a proposed title fight with Cassius Clay here Sept. 30.

Liston, here to meet with Nilon, was quoted in Sunnyland, Ill. yesterday that he doubted he would meet Clay "unless we can figure some way to get the government to let us keep some of the money."

"I think we can," said Nilon. "I'll do the figuring. I still think it (the fight) will be held because I am an eternal optimist."

Nilon would not disclose his plan until he discussed it with accountants and Liston.

Nilon said he expected the fight, which would be held in Philadelphia Stadium, would bring in $7 million.

Liston and Bob and Jim Nilon, brothers of Jack, had formed Intercontential Promotions Inc., to promote the fight. This would enable the champion to share the corporate profits, which would be taxable at a much lower rate than his purse and could be invested as security. Liston owns 47½ per cent of Intercontinental and Bob and Jim Nilon 47½ per cent. Jack Nilon does not hold any stock.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission ruled last Wednesday, however, that Liston in effect could not fight under his own promotion.

Last Thursday, Bob and Jim Nilon came up with an alternate plan approved by Al Klein, a commission member. Under this plan, they agreed to promote the fight in a partnership and give Liston a larger share of the receipts to help compensate for his withdrawal in the promotion.

Palmer, Nicklaus Are Picks For Canada Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, locked in a tense struggle for golf's No. 1 position, will put aside their rivalry to represent the United States in the annual Canada Cup matches.

Palmer, golf's leading money winner, and Nicklaus, the PGA and Masters champion, were overwhelming favorites to form the U.S. two-man team that will face tandems from 33 other nations in 72-hole stroke play near Paris Oct. 24-27.

The four-day tournament for both team and individual honors will be played over the Saint-Nom-laBreteche course, 10 miles from Paris.

The selection to the Canada Cup team was the third for Palmer, who teamed with Sam Snead in winning at Dublin, Ireland, in 1960 and at Buenos Aires last year. It's the first such election for the 23-year-old Nicklaus.

$10 MILLION LIBEL SUIT

Butts-Post Trial Begins

ATLANTA (AP)—The $10-million libel suit brought by former University of Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts against the Saturday Evening Post was to begin today in U.S. District Court.

The suit was filed against the Curtis Publishing Co., publishers of the Post, because of an article March 23 which said Butts and Alabama Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant conspired to rig last year's game between their schools.

Alabama, ranked No. 1 nationally at the end of the 1961 season, won the 1962 season-opener from Georgia 35-0. The Post article said Alabama was a 14 to 17 point favorite in the betting lines.

Butts and Bryant, who also filed a $10 million libel suit against the Post, denied all the charges.

Butts quit coaching at Georgia following the 1960 season, but remained as athletic director until his resignation one month before publication of the article. He said he was quitting for business and personal reasons.

Butts claims the article ruined his coaching career—22 years at Georgia. He also contends that the Post falsely charged him with "rigging and fixing the Alabama-Georgia football game with Coach Bryant as a gambling device in order to restore his financial resources."

The Post denies the assertions.

The Post said the article was based on a telephone conversation overheard by an Atlanta businessman, George P. Burnett. He said he was accidentally cut into a long distance call between Butts and Bryant about a week prior to the Sept. 22 game.

Burnett said he heard Butts give secret information on the Georgia team to the Alabama coach.

Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook investigated the Post charges and concluded that Butts had given Bryant vital information on the Georgia football team. However, he said he could find no evidence that either Butts or Bryant was involved in gambling.

Concord's Little Leaguers Nip West Sacramento, 3-2

The Concord American League tipped West Sacramento 3-2 on a home run in the sixth and last inning Saturday to win the Little League section two tournament at Novato and advance to the divisional tourney in Roseville Thursday.

Bobby Mejias slugged the decisive blow Saturday to break up a fine pitching duel between Concord's Bill Woodhead and West Sacramento's Ken Hensley. Both had pitched scoreless ball except for the second inning, which the Sacramento boys had opened with two runs only to see Concord match this in their half of the frame.

Concord's competition in the divisional playoffs include Union City and the Santa Cruz National League, with the fourth team yet to be announced. The winner at Roseville will advance to the western regionals at Sunnyvale. After that the trail leads to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

U.S. Is Guarding Underworld Figure As Crime Study Key

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is confident that an underworld figure it says has given federal agents a detailed description of the dominant crime organization in the United States will live to tell his story to Senate investigators.

In a secret hideout FBI agents are guarding Joseph Valachi, a 60-year-old New Yorker once fairly high in the mob hierarchy, who has outlined the structure of the terror-ridden "Cosa Nostra" and put the finger on some top racketeers already under investigation.

Valachi has a date with Sen. John L. McClellan's Senate Investigations subcommittee when it resumes its inqury into illegal narcotics traffic.

The McClellan panel began its probe of narcotics three years ago, then turned to the Billie Sol Estes investigation and the TFX warplane contract award. No date has been set for the resumption of its hearings, but McClellan, an Arkansas Democrat, said yesterday he expects Valachi to be a witness.

The government considers Valachi's account of crime in America — including an inside view of the celebrated November 1957 mobsters convention at Apalachin, N. Y. — an important intelligence breakthrough.

His story has been corrobrated by other sources and investigations, and information he gave federal agents has been passed on to local authorities, Edwin O. Guthman, Justice Department public information director said.

The theory of a secret society at the hub of organized U.S. crime has been supported for many years by the Federal Bureau of Narcotics. Valachi provided a blueprint of the "Cosa Nostra"—literally meaning "Our Thing" but sometimes called the syndicate—and confirmation that such an organization of criminals exists.

The story of the Valachi breakthrough appeared yesterday in a copyrighted story in the Washington Star. The Justice Department confirmed the essentials.

At the head of "Cosa Nostra" Valachi placed Vito Genovese, 66-year-old Italian-born narcotics boss serving a 15-year sentence at Atlanta Penitentiary.

Genovese plotted the Apalachin meeting. While Valachi was not prominent enough to attend, he was high enough in the organization to know what went on —and for a time later, he was Genovese's cellmate in Atlanta.

The Apalachin delegates were the bosses of the individual branches of Cosa Nostra and their bodyguards. According to the Star there were two main reasons for the meeting: Genovese wanted the organization's support for an attempt on the life of racketeer Frank Costello and the slaying of gangster Albert Anastasia; Genovese wanted to strike from the organization's rolls approximately 200 "button men," or soldiers in the society, as no longer useful.

Valachi had a long record of arrests for robbery, extortion, burglary, gambling and narcotics when he was arrested in November 1959 as a heroin supplier and sentenced to 15 years.

While Valachi was serving time, federal agents broke an international dope ring. Valachi, one of 24 persons indicted, was given a 20-year sentence, concurrent with his earlier term.

Available sources say Valachi heard he was suspected of having informed on the ring and was marked for death. When a prisoner approached him on June 22, 1962, he thought it was his assassin. Valachi struck the man with a piece of pipe, killing him.

Valachi sent for Federal Bureau of Narcotics agents and declared the slaying was a case of mistaken identity. What developed was a first-hand description of the rackets syndicate.

Valachi, who had meanwhile pleaded guilty to the fellow convict's murder and drawn a life sentence, was spirited from Atlanta to a secret hiding place. An FBI agent became his constant companion, drawing names, places and dates of events from the American-born son of Italian immigrants.

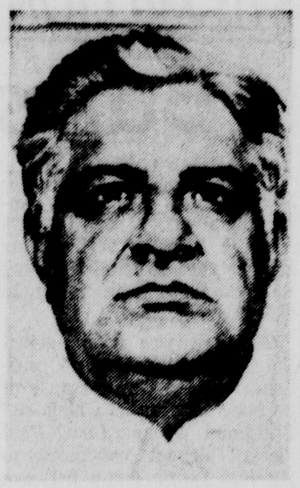

The picture of Cosa Nostra's organization Valachi is said to have supplied:

At the top, a ruling council known as the "commission," with Genovese as the chief and members—known as "bosses" —serving as heads of crime "families" in cities across the nation.

The families control organized crime in their areas. Individual mobs within the families pay part of their profits from narcotics, gambling and vice to the families.

The council determines which families get which crime concessions. It also passes on disputes over spoils.

Families are said to be operating in New York, Detroit, Buffalo, Philadelphia, Chicago, Miami, Kansas City, New Orleans, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cleveland, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Providence, Boston and various parts of New Jersey.

Brown Issues Order Outlawing Bias In Business Dealings With State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown—in an action the legislature declined to take—has issued an executive order outlawing discrimination by private businesses having any dealings with the state.

It also bans discrimination by state agencies and requires them to "initiate special recruitment program" if existing job patterns "suggest something less than complete adherence" to the order.

Called a Code of Fair Practices, it is designed to prevent contractors on state projects or merchants supplying goods or services to the state from refusing to hire Negroes or other minorities.

It's also aimed at bar owners, barbers and other state licensees who refuse to serve customers because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

The code was issued Saturday while Brown was on vacation.

Legislation requiring all state licensees to adopt strict antidiscrimination policies died this year in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

Main features of the 15-article code include:

1. A provision making it a breach of contract for any contractor or subcontractor to engage in job discrimination. Businessmen are required to tell labor unions having jurisdiction over their employees of the new order.

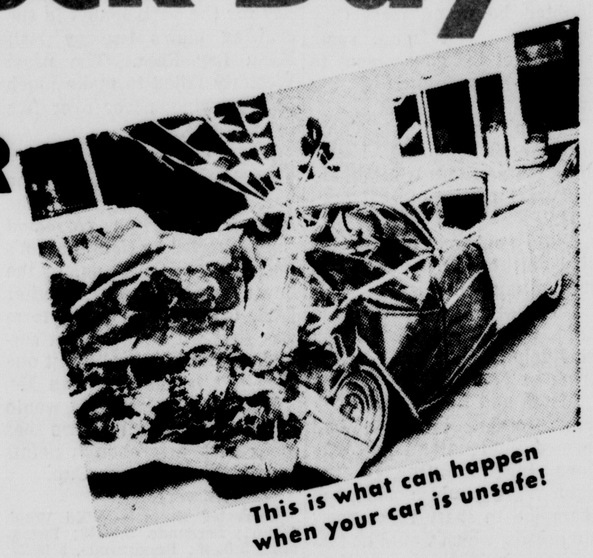

2. A section making any business licensed or regulated by the state subject to disciplinary action by its regulatory agency if it discriminates.

The order also applies to private educational institutions licensed or chartered by the state and public and private agencies receiving state funds.

In another statement, prepared for the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee, Brown strongly urged passage of President John F. Kennedy's public accommodations bill.

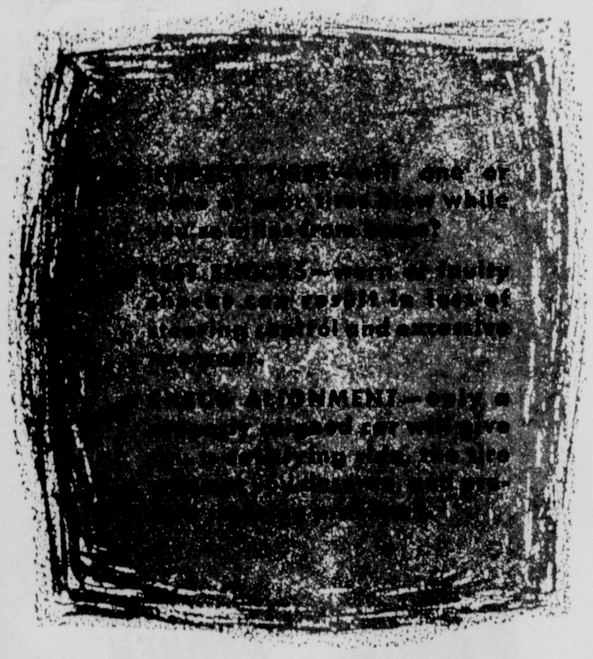

He listed what he called "compelling reasons" why more federal anti-discrimination legislation should be passed.

Fluid Gowns Reflect Brilliance

EXPRESSING the suit-look for evening, California designer Bud Kilpatrick created this two-piece ensemble at left for fall in black wool crepe and bright red jacket done in a nubby wool, which contrasts with the sleekness of the gown. At right is the white wool floor-fitted jacket. The jacket is tailored with wrist-length sleeves and a notched collar.

FLUID OPULENCE keynotes Mollie Parnis' gown with its luster of gold sparkling with red in the metallic fabric selected by the designer for this simple, sleeveless gown.

LUIS ESTEVEZ created a long, slender silhouette for fall, combining here the luxury of deep purple velvet of the long coat with the opulence of pale blue sequin brocade in the gown. The cost is styled with a notched collar, which shows the lining matching the material of the gown. A deep decolletage is featured along with a long slit from the hemline to just below the knee in the gown. The outfit was one Estevez unveiled in his collection for fall and winter at the designer showings in New York.

'Puss In Boots' To Open A Two-Day Run

The Art and Garden Unit of Marin Junior Theatre will set its scenes in medieval France for its production of "Puss In Boots" on Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. on the Northgate stage at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

Marion Hayes Cain, directing for her 12th year, has written this play from the central theme for the Art and Garden Junior Theatre's 18th year of production. Thai People Admire Their Queen Sirikit

Editor's Note: She's beautiful, beloved and one of the world's best-dressed women. But the villages of her country are filled with poverty and disease. What is the Queen of Thailand doing to help her people? Here is an appraisal of one of Asia's foremost women.

By DORIS KLEIN

BANGKOK (AP)—A breathless schoolgirl trotted alongside a limousine inching through Bangkok's snarled traffic. She grinned and waved at the young matron inside.

The woman—in pearls, diamonds and a Balmain tea dress—smiled and waved back. Then she turned to her companions and sighed:

"I hope we'll always be loved like that."

The lady was Thailand's Queen Sirikit.

THROUGH 13 years of political upheavals, Sirikit, along with her Massachusetts-born husband, King Bhumibol Adulyadej, have survived and grown in popularity.

Some say Sirikit has a lot to do with it.

There's a disarming shyness:

When she greeted a couple of visitors recently in the parlor of Chitralada Palace, she apologized for her flawless English, nervously twisted a filbert-sized pearl ring on her finger and explained: "I'm terribly nervous."

There's also royal firmness:

She decided to show her visitors her favoriite project, the Thai Red Cross Hospital, and ordered a car.

Her court aide protested she didnt' have enough time. Sirikit's voice stiffened as she told him, "I think it would be nice to have the Packard." The car was waiting in an instant.

BUT SHE TOOK time to accept a small charity contribution from a young man whose quaking knees barely permitted him to stand. And she quieted his nerves with a few soft words of thanks.

The soft words, the shy smile and the startling brunette beauty of the queen are substantial assets in a country that still reveres its royalty.

They're more important when Sirikit leaves the comfortable confines of the palace and tours the Thai back country where the villages remain virtually unchanged from the days when Thailand was the kingdom of Siam.

No one has ever told most of the villagers what to eat to keep healthy. There's disease—and not enough medical care.

ROYAL CHAT . . . Thailand's Queen Sirikit talks with writer Doris Klein.

And there are the Communists.

UNTIL RECENTLY a king and queen of Thailand had never even visited the up country. King Bhumibol and Queen Sirikit are frequent visitors these days.

"We must give the people some sense of national identity."

"The people were getting used to seeing government officials, but they look to us as their father and mother."

The queen is 31, the king 36.

"Women come up to me—they call me 'mother'," says Sirikit, "and ask how to take care of their children.

"WE ALWAYS BRING along our personal physician so he can see that the villagers get what they need."

Since 1939, Thailand has been a constitutional monarchy.

King Bhumibol never courted his job.

Born in Cambridge, Mass., while his father was studying medicine at Harvard, he was headed for a scientific career himself when his brother, King Ananda Mahidol, died in June, 1946. The mystery of the king's death—whether by murder or suicide—has never been satisfactorily explained.

While visiting the home of the Thai ambassador to London, Prince Chandaburi Suranath, he met the ambassador's daughter, Sirikit, then 17.

LIKE MOST THAI royalty today, they are distantly related through the prolific King Chulalongkorn, son of the famed Mongkut, the king of "Anna and the King of Siam."

Deeply in love, they married in April, 1950. A month later, Bhumibol was crowned.

The royal pair have four children, three girls, ages 12, 8 and 6, and a son, Prince Vajiralongkorn, 11.

"THEY WERE TOO easy on the children in school," the queen says. "So we started one of our own, here on the palace grounds."

It has 70 children in only four grades — one for each royal child. The children are those of highly placed government officials and other members of the royal crowd.

The royal kids go to the movies just like anyone else. And theater owners profit by it by lettering their marquees the day before with the subtle come-on, "Long Live the Little Prince."

When always sweltering Bangkok swelters a bit more in the spring and summer, the king and queen pack their children off to Hua Hin, a coastal resort on the Gulf of Siam.

BACK HOME AT the palace, the king gets a group of jazz musicians together weekly for a jam session. He has been a jazz buff for years, plays several instruments, composes his own music which plays regularly over the radio.

The queen prefers classical music. She abandoned a dream of being a concert pianist when she married.

Along with Mrs. Kennedy, the queen is a regular on lists of the world's 10 best dressed women — and the only Asian among them.

While modern Thai women have been wearing Western dress for a long time, the queen revived Thai dress for evening.

BUT THE QUEEN'S real love is the Thai Red Cross Society of which she is the president.

"She doesn't take it as an honorary thing as most royalty do," says a member of her board. "She really works at it."

Sirikit spends a lot of time at the Thai Red Cross hospital.

Her interest in social work is stimulating other well-to-do women to follow her example.

"There's so much to do in this country," she says. "Even this hospital is inadequate. The people need so much."

Thai People Admire Their Queen Sirikit

Editor's Note: She's beautiful, beloved and one of the world's best-dressed women. But the villages of her country are filled with poverty and disease. What is the Queen of Thailand doing to help her people? Here is an appraisal of one of Asia's foremost women.

By DORIS KLEIN

BANGKOK (AP)—A breathless schoolgirl trotted alongside a limousine inching through Bangkok's snarled traffic. She grinned and waved at the young matron inside.

The woman—in pearls, diamonds and a Balmain tea dress—smiled and waved back. Then she turned to her companions and sighed:

"I hope we'll always be loved like that."

The lady was Thailand's Queen Sirikit.

Lightner Slam Double Calls For An Unusual Lead In Game

Many years ago Theodore Lightner suggested that a slam should be doubled only to call for an unusual opening lead.

"If the "expected" opening lead will defeat the slam there is no need to double; you are quite happy to defeat the contract undoubled.

Opening lead — ◇ A

The principle is illustrated by a hand played in a Belgian tournament a few months ago.

LITTLE HOPE

East didn't have much hope of winning a spade trick but did hope to defeat the grand slam by ruffing an opening club lead.

The trouble was that West wouldn't dream of opening a club if allowed to choose his opening lead. From East's point of view, the "expected" opening lead was a spade.

South would make the grand slam against the normal spade lead. South would ruff the spade, ruff a diamond in dummy, ruff another spade, ruff a second diamond in dummy, ruff a third spade, and ruff a third diamond in dummy.

HAND NOTICED

Then declarer leads dummy's last trump for a successful finesse, draws the rest of the trumps with the ace and claims the rest of the tricks with good clubs.

West, one of the best players in Belgium, has played many other hands in the past ten years but none of them has received as much notice as this one.

He had his fingers on the ace of diamonds before the last pass died away on the air.

DIDN'T KNOW

East later pointed out that he didn't know about the ace of diamonds when he doubled; hence he could not have been calling for a diamond lead. East also pointed out that only the "obvious" club lead could defeat the grand slam and that only a double would call for a club lead.

Many Belgians speak both French and Flemish, and this is quite an advantage for a bridge player who has many words to say to his partner. The fury of a woman scorned got its top billing before we knew about scorned bridge partners.

Disgraceful Hospital Racket Overdue For Abrupt Halt

"Incredible" is a word less than adequate to describe revelations before Marin County supervisors last Tuesday by county medical director Michael E. Scholl and revenue officer Mark Falcone.

Almost equally staggering to the reason was the board's declared necessity to postpone any corrective action pending word from county counsel, who might have been called in then and there but wasn't.

It hardly takes a lawyer to say that Marin County is not obligated to pay emergency hospital bills of people with jobs, insurance or wealth. Yet that was the whole issue, [illegible] put by Dr. Scholl and Falcone, and backed with recommendation of the administrator that a prompt stop order be issued.

'Twas a strange story indeed, that Marin taxpayers have been footing the legitimate obligations of people with money in their own pockets. This county has been guaranteeing hospitals against bad debts on emergency cases. Those debts should be strictly a matter for the hospitals, part of overhead.

Obviously this has nothing to do with the actual provision of the help which ran up the bills. Nor has it any bearing on the county's clear legal obligation to pay bills of indigents—nobody questions that indigency statements are needed.

But to have your bills paid by the county when you're solvent sounds like a sweet racket, for racketeers.

The crusher, however, was revelation that this wasn't a matter of racketeers at all but of "good citizens" including doctors and lawyers.

During the somewhat floundering discussion of last week one red herring was drawn across the trail and it should be thrown back into the drink promptly. It consisted of mention that running a county hospital would be more costly than present hospital arrangements, even including dishonest goings-on presumably. Well, what matter?—it has no pertinence except that the present situation is morally wrong and a gyp of the taxpayers.

If we had a county hospital it wouldn't be for the benefit of people able to pay. The present issue is of the county paying everybody's bills if they're allowed to run 90 days.

Falcone found through check of the records that in 1961 the county paid $14,000 for such bills, recovering only $1,000, yet with the vast majority of those treated fully able to pay. In 75 out of 1,000 cases the patients were covered by insurance but the hospital "didn't take the time to submit applications," said Falcone.

This fantastic situation certainly shows how to make "every man a millionaire" by merely not paying his just debts even though able, and by letting his fellow-taxpayers pony up. Still, if everybody did it . . . Certainly enough seem to have done so including many parents with more cash than conscience.

Falcone has speeded up collections to where the county's unjustified payments aren't much more than $5,000 annually now, he says. This speaks well for him but it is disgraceful otherwise, since such cost shouldn't total one cent.

A new resolution altering this situation is certainly due no later than tomorrow. It should include thanks to those who hollered cop.

Those Darn Red Spiders

Few Marin garden pests live on such a wide variety of plants and trees as the tiny mite known as Red Spider. Not really a spider, not even technically an insect, these tiny, red, eight-legged mites thrive on the juices of many of our plants and trees.

They are found on the undersides of the leaves and are so small a magnifying glass is needed to detect them. They make us think of miniature red ticks. The leaves upon which these tiny problem children live appear to be covered with a fine white dust. It consists of their empty, wrinkled skins and the webs which contain their eggs.

Red Spiders are strongly against birth control and the term population explosion might have been invented for them. Fortunately, they are not too difficult to control with washing or the proper chemicals.

How Can Congress Stay So Long, Do So Little? Tain't Easy!

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON—Many people are wondering how Congress can remain in session for as long as it has without passing any important legislation.

Well, it isn't easy. It takes experience, know-how, and devoted patience.

The members of the 88th Congress have the art of legislative featherbedding down to a science, and after spending time on Capitol Hill one can't help developing anything but admiration for our elected representatives. To paraphrase Sir Winston Churchill, "Never have so few done so little for so many."

HOW DO they do it? In order to find out, we interviewed a Congressman who was willing to talk providing we didn't use his name.

"Sir, how are you able to stay in session for so long without doing anything?"

"The secret is cooperation, boy," he said. "Without cooperation from everybody in Congress, heaven knows how many laws we'd pass."

"What do you mean, sir?"

"Well, boy, Congress has built-in safeguards against anything getting on the floor for a vote. For one thing, a bill has to go to a committee for study. The bill is usually given to the committee that is most unfavorable to its being passed, so it's pigeon-holed without much discussion. In most cases the key committees in Congress are controlled by chairmen who are pledged to keeping legislation away from the legislators."

"WHY IS THAT?"

"If you, as a legislator, vote, that means you're taking a stand on an issue, and if you're running for re-election the last thing you want to do is to let the voters know what side you're on."

"That's true," we said.

"Then as a safeguard we also have the Congressional hearing. You can have hearings for as long as nine months on a piece of legislation. Sometimes, if the legislation is newsworthy enough, you can have two or three committees holding hearings on the same bill at the same time.

"In many cases, the hearings become so complicated the committee forgets why they're holding them in the first place. But as long as the hearings get in the newspapers everyone is satisfied."

"Who decides whether a hearing has enough publicity value?"

"Usually the chairman of the committee."

Editor, Independent-Journal:

You have a feature on Saturday in which you dish out "brickbats and bouquets." Permit me to add my own in the following manner:

A BRICKBAT to those parents who allow their children to make life miserable for their neighbors, especially during the summer months. There is nothing nicer than a reasonably well-behaved youngster — nothing worse than one with the manners of a pig.

These same ill-bred parents (and they are supposed to be responsible for their offsprings' behavior) add to it by permitting their dogs to roam at random, frankly not caring if the neighbor might prefer some other form of animal life (I personally like dogs and birds).

I have nothing against children or dogs but I do feel they are the responsibility of those who own them.

It is small wonder to me the I-J is filled with the escapades of teeners committing all forms of vandalism. If a youngster isn't taught at home to respect his neighbor's right of privacy, how in the world is he or she supposed to learn at the ages of 16 and 17?

When one stops and thinks just how many tax dollars are spent to right what teen-punk vandals have undone, it is enough to make one's blood boil. Nowadays, the children's teachers and neighbors are all wrong and the parents are the first to tell them so. I recall my grandparents (I was reared in their home) told me I could expect more of the same at home should I involve myself in any trouble. Half of my childhood was spent across my granddad's knee and it hasn't hurt me at all.

I'm no Dr. Spock, but it appears what today's youngsters need is a good whacking you know where. I often wonder if the parents realize how obvious it is to sum them up just by observing their children. See a reasonably polite child and you can almost bet your last dollar the parents are people worth knowing. See an ill-mannered one and can bet they got it at home.

BOUQUETS to our newsboy, Charles McLaren, for a wonderful job. One of the most polite youngsters we have had the pleasure to meet. Ask him a question and the reply is always, "Yes Sir" or "No Sir." Too bad all children can't have the experience of a paper route.

Come to think of it, I don't recall ever hearing of a newsboy or former newsboy being involved in a criminal court. Charles McLaren is prompt—one can almost set one's clock by him—courteous and, as previously stated, extremely dependable. It is a pleasure to do business with him.

THE WOMAN who walked behind her dog for 35 years in Mill Valley, up hill and down, packed up her dog last week and went to Graton.

"You've probably never heard of Graton," she told us in front of the Bank of America where she was being pulled along by her speckled brown and white dog, Buttons.

We admitted she was right and asked where it is. She said it is near the Russian River, has a few little weathered houses which look as if they had been there since the 90s, and appears to be a marvelous place.

WHEN YOU LOOK at Daisy Saville you find yourself saying "there goes Mill Valley." When we first met her she was being pulled up and down the streets by a "Mr. Smudge," a black cocker, blind in his later years.

Bun behind her head, Miss Saville was a piano teacher first, baby sitter second and a writer third. "I owned three houses here," she said.

"Mill Valley has always been home but I'm going to start a new life," she continued, her eyes twinkling as if she were 16. "I'm very excited about it."

SHE SAID she had sold her piano, said goodbye to many of her baby sitting accounts and would soon be packing up Buttons and heading north. Then, with a strong tug on the leash from her dog, Miss Saville was yanked away towards Mill Valley Market and Jacques Restaurant and she was gone.

"What would my mum say if she saw me with this haircut?" asked John Wiles, just over from England and visiting in Mill Valley. Wiles had been talked into getting a crew cut by his sister-in-law. In England, where haircuts are longer and more conservative, people would say I look like a Ted or a beatnik, Wiles commented.

Rosie, who likes her pastries at Meier's Bakery and seafood at Sabella's, will be 80 on Thursday and is being given a party by the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society and National Audubon Society.

"I have been wanting to eat an apple for years," Mrs. Verrall said, "and now I can."

VISITED BELVEDERE Community Hall the other night for a planning commission meeting. Unlike in Sausalito or Mill Valley where the councils and commissions sit on a higher level than the citizens on diases, Belvedere's city fathers sit on the main floor at what appears to be a library table.

The hall itself is a former church with raftered ceilings and leaded windows, some of them broken, leading you to think a bird might fly in at any moment.

IN ONE CORNER is a juke box. On the former altar is a trampoline and a table tennis table, sitting on their ends and used when the hall doubles as a recreation center for teenagers.

In another corner is a piano. Citizens who sit in the first row sit on dining room chairs, some of which wobble precariously.

I think America's great.

Congress Must Be Modernized To Recover Old Authority

WASHINGTON—This summer and fall will be a good time for the American people—and the Congressmen themselves—to watch and decide whether Congress can go on much longer with its present archaic machinery.

Every student of government, who looks upon the functioning of Congress with any detachment, is convinced that its machinery must be modernized if it is to recover its eroded authority and have any chance of transacting the public business efficiently and responsibly.

What we are going to learn this summer and fall is not only whether Congress can transact the public business efficiently and responsibly, but whether it can transact the public business at all.

DURING THE MANY years I have been in Washington there has always been urgent business before the Congress. At this session there is transcendently urgent business before the Congress.

There is the problem of rising racial tension, unrelieved unemployment despite substantial prosperity, a sluggish economy, the matter of tax reduction, and the overhanging threat of a rail strike.

Legislation dealing with all of these matters will be before Congress. The issues are being clearly drawn. The President has done his part by decisively committing his leadership, by alerting the nation to the problems, and by offering Congress concrete proposals for action.

THE INITIATIVE is now wholly with Congress. The responsibility for action—or inaction—is with Congress, plus responsibility for the consequences. Congress has the ball.

After six months of frittering, no wonder everybody is uncertain about what is going to be done—if anything. From January to July Congress has accomplished little that is visible to the naked eye and nothing significant.

And now, after consuming a half-year accomplishing virtually nothing, Washington is filled with talk that Congress can hardly be expected to do two big things the same year—that is, deal with civil rights legislation and tax reduction over a 12-month span.

The talk is that if Congress can handle one major problem a year, like civil rights, that would be transacting the public business pretty well.

IT WOULDN'T. It would be a sorry record and one which Congressmen who want to see Congress recover its initiative, authority, and prestige cannot and should not condone as an acceptable standard of government.

The truth is that Congress has been continuously losing power to the President for more than a quarter-century. We no longer have a system of three coordinate branches — legislative, executive, and judicial.

Through its own fault and inefficiency Congress is no longer co-equal with the executive and the judiciary. It can retrieve its position only by modernizing its methods of discharging its responsibilities.

They were made for her by Dr. Maurice Glazer, Belvedere dentist, as a birthday present.

Rosie, who likes her pastries at Meier's Bakery and seafood at Sabella's, will be 80 on Thursday and is being given a party by the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society and National Audubon Society.

"I have been wanting to eat an apple for years," Mrs. Verrall said, "and now I can."

VISITED BELVEDERE Community Hall the other night for a planning commission meeting. Unlike in Sausalito or Mill Valley where the councils and commissions sit on a higher level than the citizens on diases, Belvedere's city fathers sit on the main floor at what appears to be a library table.

The hall itself is a former church with raftered ceilings and leaded windows, some of them broken, leading you to think a bird might fly in at any moment.

IN ONE CORNER is a juke box. On the former altar is a trampoline and a table tennis table, sitting on their ends and used when the hall doubles as a recreation center for teenagers.

In another corner is a piano. Citizens who sit in the first row sit on dining room chairs, some of which wobble precariously.

I think America's great.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Congress Must Be Modernized To Recover Old Authority

WASHINGTON—This summer and fall will be a good time for the American people—and the Congressmen themselves—to watch and decide whether Congress can go on much longer with its present archaic machinery.

Every student of government, who looks upon the functioning of Congress with any detachment, is convinced that its machinery must be modernized if it is to recover its eroded authority and have any chance of transacting the public business efficiently and responsibly.

What we are going to learn this summer and fall is not only whether Congress can transact the public business efficiently and responsibly, but whether it can transact the public business at all.

DURING THE MANY years I have been in Washington there has always been urgent business before the Congress. At this session there is transcendently urgent business before the Congress.

There is the problem of rising racial tension, unrelieved unemployment despite substantial prosperity, a sluggish economy, the matter of tax reduction, and the overhanging threat of a rail strike.

Legislation dealing with all of these matters will be before Congress. The issues are being clearly drawn. The President has done his part by decisively committing his leadership, by alerting the nation to the problems, and by offering Congress concrete proposals for action.

THE INITIATIVE is now wholly with Congress. The responsibility for action—or inaction—is with Congress, plus responsibility for the consequences. Congress has the ball.

After six months of frittering, no wonder everybody is uncertain about what is going to be done—if anything. From January to July Congress has accomplished little that is visible to the naked eye and nothing significant.

And now, after consuming a half-year accomplishing virtually nothing, Washington is filled with talk that Congress can hardly be expected to do two big things the same year—that is, deal with civil rights legislation and tax reduction over a 12-month span.

The talk is that if Congress can handle one major problem a year, like civil rights, that would be transacting the public business pretty well.

IT WOULDN'T. It would be a sorry record and one which Congressmen who want to see Congress recover its initiative, authority, and prestige cannot and should not condone as an acceptable standard of government.

The truth is that Congress has been continuously losing power to the President for more than a quarter-century. We no longer have a system of three coordinate branches — legislative, executive, and judicial.

Through its own fault and inefficiency Congress is no longer co-equal with the executive and the judiciary. It can retrieve its position only by modernizing its methods of discharging its responsibilities.

The Country Parson

"You don't destroy truth by refusing to accept it any more than you get rid of apple trees by not picking the apples."

Future Engineers Entered In Show

Competing for honors and scholarship awards will be Lonnie Masouredis, 13, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Masouredis, 9 DeAnza Way, San Rafael; Bill Blankenburg, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blankenburg, 131 Meernaa Avenue, Fairfax, and Brian Nelson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Nelson, 2323 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

Masouredis will exhibit his project describing the "Effect of Pressure on Gas Discharge." It defines the effect of gas pressures on electrical discharges in a closed chamber. Masouredis, a graduate of Santa Venetia Junior High School in June, will enter Terra Linda High School next month.

Blankenburg will exhibit his "Proximity Detector," a unit designed to detect the approach of any moving object within its sensing range. Blankenburg is a student at Fairfax Central School.

Nelson, a June graduate of Reed School, will display his "Digital Computer," a simplified version of the complicated industrial computers in use today.

Terra Linda High Work On Agenda

Preliminary plans for construction of 18 classrooms at Terra Linda High School, the first of two planned expansion projects, will be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Architects Carl F. Gromme and Ralph B. Priestley are preparing the plans on a timetable that would have the job completed by school opening in September, 1964.

Expansion of Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools was recommended by the Citizens Committee on School District Finance and Facilities.

The board also is scheduled to adopt a $1,356,775 elementary school district budget and a $1,307,764 high school district budget for 1963-64 after a public hearing.

The board will receive the resignation of Gary Dunn, vice principal at San Rafael High School, who is leaving to become a superintendent at Clarksburg, Yolo County.

Other items on the agenda include a report on the elementary summer school session, a report on state testing in the high school district, the awarding of a contract for language laboratories for the junior high schools and the opening of bids for construction of a maintenance shed at San Rafael High School.

Soldier Honored Upon Retirement

Lt. Col. John J. Earley, 926 Las Pavadas, Terra Linda, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal for "meritorious service" on his recent retirement from the Army after 25 years service.

Earley was a member of the planning staff for the invasion of North Africa and had been decorated with the Army Bronze Star Medal and Combat Infantryman Badge during his military career. He was in the Sixth Army Information office at the Presidio, San Francisco, at the time of retirement.

Earley will do public relations work in Marin County.

Natural Resource Films Are Slated

Films on the natural resources of Oregon and California will be shown at the regular monthly meeting of the Marin Nature Group at 8 p.m. Friday, in Room 40 of the College of Marin chemistry building, Albert M. Williams, group president, has announced.

The group will also have a field trip to Muir Woods Sunday, meeting at the college's Circle Drive at 10 a.m.

University of California food scientists have created a high-vitamin drink of tomato juice with a dash of juice from ripe, red bell peppers.

'Free Fine Week' Is Offered By Library Branch

A "Free Fine Week" for the Belvedere-Tiburon branch of the Marin County Library has been announced by Mrs. Virginia Keating, Marin County librarian, to mark the Thursday reopening of the community's branch library at new quarters in the Tiburon Boardwalk Shopping Center.

The new location, in the same shopping center building as the county's old facility, will double the size of the old location, and provide more space for reading and reference. Additional reading and reference material has also been provided for the new facility, said Mrs. Keating.

No fines will be charged on books returned during the "Free Fine Week" ending Aug. 15.

Traffic Safety Conference Due

Max S. Martin of 4 Sonoma Avenue, San Anselmo, will head a panel discussion on moral emphasis at the Governor's Traffic Safety Conference Oct. 3-4 in Sacramento.

Martin's panel is one of 11 aimed at finding a solution to traffic safety problems in the state. The other divisions are armed forces, drivers licenses, education, enforcement, engineering, fleet safety, women's division, children's support, courts and teen-agers.

San Anselmo Youth Gets Master's Degree

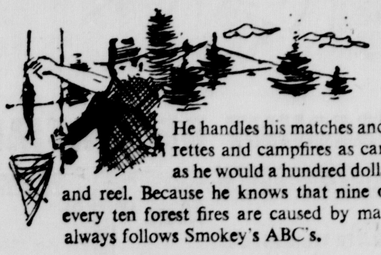

Lawrence Craft, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Craft, 291 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, has received a Master's degree in organic chemistry from the University of Wisconsin.

A graduate of University of California at Berekley, Craft is engaged in research work in Madison, Wis., and is now studying for his doctorate in physical chemistry. He attended Sir Francis Drake High School and the College of Marin, and at one time was employed in the circulation department of the Independent-Journal.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Former City Planner Part Of Team To Develop Real Estate In Marin

Former San Rafael city planner Donald R. Newmark and Barnett J. Sumski of Greenbrae have teamed up to develop Marin County real estate — commercially, residentially or to whatever degree its best use calls for.

Newmark, who lives in Sausalito, says his chief interest is in urban development, and this seems to be the best way to put it to practical use.

The two have recently incorporated as the Redwood Empire Properties Co. and have offices at 1 Montgomery Street, San Francisco. They expect to open quarters eventually in Marin.

JOHN T. SCHMITZ of San Rafael has been named to the newly created post of brokerage manager of Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., San Francisco. He was previously office manager of the company's operations in Daly City. He is legislative chairman of the San Francisco Life Underwriters Assn., president-elect of the Marin County branch of the American Cancer Society and treasurer of the Marin County Young Republicans.

RENE A. HENRY JR. of San Anselmo has been made publicity director of Lennen and Newell, Inc., San Francisco. He joined the firm as a publicity account executive in 1959. His new responsibilities in publicity planning will be at both regional and national levels.

KENNETH LANGLEY of Mill Valley is new coordinator of public relations for the Tuberculosis and Health Assn. of California and will work out of Christmas Seal Assn. headquarters in San Francisco. He has been associated with the organization since 1960 as director of the TV-radio division. A former producer - writer-director for CBS radio, Langley is founding member and treasurer of the San Francisco chapter of the National Academy of TV Arts and Sciences and past national vice president.

STEEN SCHELLENBERG of San Anselmo has been invited to lecture before the Provident Mutual Life advanced underwriting seminar at White Sulphur Springs, West Va., next month. His subject will be "Taxation and Life Insurance Preventative Planning." Schellenberg is a staff consultant to Provident Mutual's San Francisco agency and to the Wachsman-Nixon Co., San Rafael.

MARK D. ANDREWS of Terra Linda has been appointed a medical service representative in Marin County for J. B. Roerig and Co., pharmaceutical division of Chas. Pfizer and Co. Inc. The division markets prescription specialties used for treating infections, psychoneurotic disorders, cardiovascular ailments, nausea, anusea and vertigo—also vitamin and mineral supplements.

Toastmaster Salin Will Make Report

Lothar Salin of San Rafael, a director of Toastmasters International, will report on two new training manuals he has worked on at the 32nd annual convention of the organization in St. Louis Aug. 22-24.

Future Engineers Entered In Show

Competing for honors and scholarship awards will be Lonnie Masouredis, 13, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. P. Masouredis, 9 DeAnza Way, San Rafael; Bill Blankenburg, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blankenburg, 131 Meernaa Avenue, Fairfax, and Brian Nelson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Nelson, 2323 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

Masouredis will exhibit his project describing the "Effect of Pressure on Gas Discharge." It defines the effect of gas pressures on electrical discharges in a closed chamber. Masouredis, a graduate of Santa Venetia Junior High School in June, will enter Terra Linda High School next month.

Blankenburg will exhibit his "Proximity Detector," a unit designed to detect the approach of any moving object within its sensing range. Blankenburg is a student at Fairfax Central School.

Nelson, a June graduate of Reed School, will display his "Digital Computer," a simplified version of the complicated industrial computers in use today.

Terra Linda High Work On Agenda

Preliminary plans for construction of 18 classrooms at Terra Linda High School, the first of two planned expansion projects, will be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Architects Carl F. Gromme and Ralph B. Priestley are preparing the plans on a timetable that would have the job completed by school opening in September, 1964.

Expansion of Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools was recommended by the Citizens Committee on School District Finance and Facilities.

The board also is scheduled to adopt a $1,356,775 elementary school district budget and a $1,307,764 high school district budget for 1963-64 after a public hearing.

The board will receive the resignation of Gary Dunn, vice principal at San Rafael High School, who is leaving to become a superintendent at Clarksburg, Yolo County.

Other items on the agenda include a report on the elementary summer school session, a report on state testing in the high school district, the awarding of a contract for language laboratories for the junior high schools and the opening of bids for construction of a maintenance shed at San Rafael High School.

Soldier Honored Upon Retirement

Lt. Col. John J. Earley, 926 Las Pavadas, Terra Linda, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal for "meritorious service" on his recent retirement from the Army after 25 years service.

Earley was a member of the planning staff for the invasion of North Africa and had been decorated with the Army Bronze Star Medal and Combat Infantryman Badge during his military career. He was in the Sixth Army Information office at the Presidio, San Francisco, at the time of retirement.

Earley will do public relations work in Marin County.

Natural Resource Films Are Slated

Films on the natural resources of Oregon and California will be shown at the regular monthly meeting of the Marin Nature Group at 8 p.m. Friday, in Room 40 of the College of Marin chemistry building, Albert M. Williams, group president, has announced.

The group will also have a field trip to Muir Woods Sunday, meeting at the college's Circle Drive at 10 a.m.

University of California food scientists have created a high-vitamin drink of tomato juice with a dash of juice from ripe, red bell peppers.

'Free Fine Week' Is Offered By Library Branch

A "Free Fine Week" for the Belvedere-Tiburon branch of the Marin County Library has been announced by Mrs. Virginia Keating, Marin County librarian, to mark the Thursday reopening of the community's branch library at new quarters in the Tiburon Boardwalk Shopping Center.

The new location, in the same shopping center building as the county's old facility, will double the size of the old location, and provide more space for reading and reference. Additional reading and reference material has also been provided for the new facility, said Mrs. Keating.

No fines will be charged on books returned during the "Free Fine Week" ending Aug. 15.

Traffic Safety Conference Due

Max S. Martin of 4 Sonoma Avenue, San Anselmo, will head a panel discussion on moral emphasis at the Governor's Traffic Safety Conference Oct. 3-4 in Sacramento.

Martin's panel is one of 11 aimed at finding a solution to traffic safety problems in the state. The other divisions are armed forces, drivers licenses, education, enforcement, engineering, fleet safety, women's division, children's support, courts and teen-agers.

San Anselmo Youth Gets Master's Degree

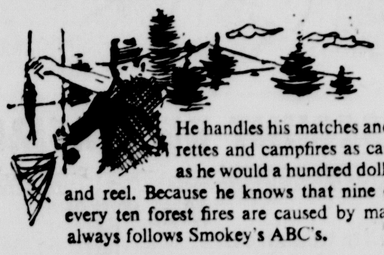

Lawrence Craft, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Craft, 291 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, has received a Master's degree in organic chemistry from the University of Wisconsin.

A graduate of University of California at Berekley, Craft is engaged in research work in Madison, Wis., and is now studying for his doctorate in physical chemistry. He attended Sir Francis Drake High School and the College of Marin, and at one time was employed in the circulation department of the Independent-Journal.

Completes Plebe Year

Cadet Robert G. Hannah, son of Mrs. Margaret Hannah of 243 Chapman Drive, Corte Madera, has completed his plebe year at the United States Merchant Marine Academy and is now at home on leave.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Former City Planner Part Of Team To Develop Real Estate In Marin

Former San Rafael city planner Donald R. Newmark and Barnett J. Sumski of Greenbrae have teamed up to develop Marin County real estate — commercially, residentially or to whatever degree its best use calls for.

Newmark, who lives in Sausalito, says his chief interest is in urban development, and this seems to be the best way to put it to practical use.

The two have recently incorporated as the Redwood Empire Properties Co. and have offices at 1 Montgomery Street, San Francisco. They expect to open quarters eventually in Marin.

JOHN T. SCHMITZ of San Rafael has been named to the newly created post of brokerage manager of Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., San Francisco. He was previously office manager of the company's operations in Daly City. He is legislative chairman of the San Francisco Life Underwriters Assn., president-elect of the Marin County branch of the American Cancer Society and treasurer of the Marin County Young Republicans.

RENE A. HENRY JR. of San Anselmo has been made publicity director of Lennen and Newell, Inc., San Francisco. He joined the firm as a publicity account executive in 1959. His new responsibilities in publicity planning will be at both regional and national levels.

KENNETH LANGLEY of Mill Valley is new coordinator of public relations for the Tuberculosis and Health Assn. of California and will work out of Christmas Seal Assn. headquarters in San Francisco. He has been associated with the organization since 1960 as director of the TV-radio division. A former producer-writer-director for CBS radio, Langley is founding member and treasurer of the San Francisco chapter of the National Academy of TV Arts and Sciences and past national vice president.

STEEN SCHELLENBERG of San Anselmo has been invited to lecture before the Provident Mutual Life advanced underwriting seminar at White Sulphur Springs, West Va., next month. His subject will be "Taxation and Life Insurance Preventative Planning." Schellenberg is a staff consultant to Provident Mutual's San Francisco agency and to the Wachsman-Nixon Co., San Rafael.

MARK D. ANDREWS of Terra Linda has been appointed a medical service representative in Marin County for J. B. Roerig and Co., pharmaceutical division of Chas. Pfizer and Co. Inc. The division markets prescription specialties used for treating infections, psychoneurotic disorders, cardiovascular ailments, nausea, anusea and vertigo—also vitamin and mineral supplements.

Civil Air Cadets Will Be Officers

Eight San Rafael cadets from Marin Squadron Four, Civil Air Patrol, have been selected as encampment officers for the patrol's 1963 summer encampment at Mather Air Force Base, Sacramento.

The cadet officers, selected from 135 applicants from Northern California, will live on the base during the 10-day camp, attending training films and orientation flights.

Four Students Get Honors At Stanford

Four Marin County students at Stanford University have been awarded honors for high academic records during the past school year.

They are: Timothy K. Farrell, son of Mrs. P. McClain of 346 West Baltimore Avenue, Larkspur; Lola Clarkson Behr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Behr of 212 Del Casa Drive, Mill Valley; Candace A. McDonnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McDonnell of 252 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley, and Geoffrey Dell'Osso, son of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond John Dell'Oso of 15 Mission Lane, San Rafael.

Fairfax School Meet

Adoption of the 1963-64 budget and the hiring of Mrs. Carmela Jurgens as a second grade teacher at Deer Park School and Marian Nees as a fifth grade teacher at Oak Manor School will be considered by the Fairfax School District board meeting tomorrow at 7:45 p.m. at Central School.

Toastmaster Salin Will Make Report

Lothar Salin of San Rafael, a director of Toastmasters International, will report on two new training manuals he has worked on at the 32nd annual convention of the organization in St. Louis Aug. 22-24.

Salin will attend a board meeting prior to the convention and will present his manuals to an educational workshop at the convention. He is a member of Tamalpais Toastmasters 1755.
